

THERE is evidently too much to eat in the world. The Department of Agriculture advises farmers to reduce acreage, if they want to sell what they produce for living prices. And yet, all over the world are plenty of people who have not enough to eat, and few who have too much. It is one of the startling paradoxes of our system.

Also, if this advice is generally taken, the farmer who will profit by it most is the one who does not take it. The others, by reducing supply, will put up the price, while he, by increasing his particular output, will have more to sell at the higher prices. In the most individualistic of callings, the common interest of all is the opposite of the particular interest of each. And there is no way of coordinating these interests. If one man owned all the farms, he would make money by producing less, but if many men own them individually, each one will gain by producing more—provided the others produce less.

IN THE old days, it was not so. When farming was a way of life, instead of a business, and the farmer lived mostly on what he produced, the more he raised the more he had and the better he lived. Frost and drought were never a blessing. But when farming became a business, with things to sell and to buy, "overproduction" became the bugaboo. The farmer went hungry from too much food.

SIMILARLY, America has too much money. That money capitalizes factories which produce more than we can consume. A million men, with modern machinery, can make more automobiles than a hundred millions can buy. The rest we must sell abroad. But the only way the peoples of the world can pay for them, since we have too much money, and they therefore too little, is for us to lend them the money to pay us. They can then only repay that by sending us their own goods, and this, if encouraged, would curtail the home market for the product of our over-equipped plants. The overbalance of the world's money unbalances its business, and it is an embarrassment to every one, including, paradoxically, even the nation favor by too much money. Just as the farmers, collectively would profit by bad crops, so American business would doubtless profit, generally, by the loss of some individuals through bad debts. Both win by losing. And yet each individual wins by the very tactics by which all lose.

THERE is joy in Moscow at the fall of Shanghai. Great crowds fill the Red Square, and the Czar's chime, on the Kremlin gate, rings out the Internationale. The propaganda-fueled populace thinks that it is the victory of a Communist China against the terrible "capitalist" nations. The "choking ring" which the "bourgeois" powers are drawing about Russia is broken without magnifying small troubles into great.

A LITTLE while ago, the whole movement was to regard crime as a thing to be diagnosed, and the criminal as one to be cured. Now the movement is to regard crime as a war on society, and the criminal as an enemy to be fought. Both, obviously, are right. The only wrong is to regard either as the whole story.

A recent survey by the New York State Crime Commission revives the diagnostic interest. The commission made a survey of the Red Hook district, in Brooklyn, because its record of juvenile crime was five times worse than the average of Brooklyn. It was found to be a district of foreign-born stevedores. The fathers worked irregularly. When they worked, they were too tired, and when they were idle they were too drunk, to pay attention to their children. The mothers were druggies. The children had nowhere to play but the streets, and nothing to play with there. Nothing could be had by the child's personal effort. He could not pick up a stick or a clod, as the country boy can, for himself anything except from materials which could only be had for money. So the children would begin by stealing a soap box and an old pair of roller skates, to make a "scooter." More serious stealing would follow, with the formation of gangs, whose only outlet for the instinct of adventure was to urge each other on in crime. Starecally impulses or an act was scarcely which would have involved crime in normal surroundings. Here, the natural impulses of childhood led first to mischief and soon to serious crime. There was no home training or discipline, little effective church influence, no private place to play, and no public playgrounds. And the product was five times the normal amount of crime. The remedy, self-evidently, is not jail.

Ford Assassination Plot Discounted

OCCUPANTS OF BIG CAR ARE SOUGHT

Investigation of Accident In Which Billionaire Was Hurt Veiled in Secrecy

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

Guards Watch Every Corridor in Hospital Where Automobile Magnate Lies

(By United Press)
DETROIT, March 31.—Guards today watched every corridor of the wings of Henry Ford hospital, at Dearborn, where Henry Ford himself lay ill from injuries received Sunday night in an automobile accident. Every car that could be lavished on a president or an emperor was given the billionaire.

Rumors abounding in Detroit and Dearborn that Ford was the victim of an attempted assassin were discounted. Little evidence had been uncovered to support the reports. Private detectives and members of the Dearborn police force, however, were seeking two men, whose automobile crowded the Ford coupe, driven by the motor magnate, off the highway.

The accident to the famous citizen caused a tremendous sensation in Detroit and Dearborn, the Detroit suburb, where Ford lives. But official interest in the investigation of the reports of a "plot" seemed to lag. This was particularly noticeable after Fred M. Raymond, federal judge, presiding at the Ford-Sapiro libel suit, said in open court he had ordered no investigation of the accident.

Out of Case
Thomas Wilcox, chief of the secret service here, said he was out of the case and never had been in it really, and Detroit police said they would do nothing more excepting at the request of Dearborn authorities. Six detectives working on the case at Dearborn reported "no developments" at noon.

The reports of a "plot" aroused much indignation at the Ford-Sapiro libel trial. William Henry Gallagher, counsel for Aaron Sapiro, and Sapiro himself denounced what they considered insinuations connecting the accident with the case in court and threatened action against those responsible.

Attorneys for Ford were less perturbed, but Judge Raymond's statement in open court was understood to have been prompted by them.

Two Detroit papers continued to display accounts of the alleged "plot" and the third—the News—after having ignored the reports until noon today, said at that time:

"Rumors were running riot today through Detroit and largely over the country that the accident Sunday night to Henry Ford was an attempted death plot. The Detroit News has been unable to verify any of these rumors and proceeded to quote a total of nine state, federal and city peace officers of executive position, denying anything was before them involving Ford's accident or that they suspected violence in any way."

Arrests Reported Denied
Reports that "many arrests had been made" were denied by Dearborn and Detroit police—the latter having charge of the investigation, and by federal officers. Four men are held by the federal authorities on an unproved charge, but they denied the arrests had anything to do with Ford.

Dearborn police told the United Press "what we want to do is to determine, if we can, who it was that crowded the Ford and whether they did it deliberately. There are some suspicious circumstances, and we want to clear them up."

At noon Dr. R. D. McClure, chief surgeon of the Ford hospital, issued the following bulletin:

"Progress continues satisfactory. While Mr. Ford still is in considerable distress, there are no signs of complications. Temperature, pulse and respiration are normal."

It was signed by McClure and Frank J. Sladen, M. D.

Physicians insisted there wasn't cause for alarm. It was admitted, however, that the injuries had at first been considered serious. Ford's chest and back were in splints to facilitate healing.

Judge Denies Probe
Judge Fred M. Raymond, presiding in the Ford-Sapiro million dollar libel case, today took formal cognizance in open court of rumors that he had ordered an investigation to determine whether

LAUREN E. HURD
Member of the Orange county state traffic squad, who died early this morning in the Santa Fe hospital, Los Angeles, where he had undergone an operation on his right arm.

LAUREN HURD, STATE TRAFFIC OFFICER, DIES

Bone Grafting Operation on Arm, Broken While on Duty, Fatal

Lauren Emory Hurd, 26, youngest of the Orange county state traffic officers, died in the Santa Fe hospital, Los Angeles, at 8:25 a. m. today, as the result of an operation, undergone at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, when surgeons attempted to permanently correct a fractured arm, suffered in an accident 10 months ago.

Hurd was thought to have been on the road to recovery and relatives, who were with him during the operation, had returned to Santa Ana. At 5 o'clock this morning his condition took a sudden turn for the worse and he died a little more than three hours later.

A sudden heart attack under the heavy strain of the anaesthetic, is believed to have been the cause of death.

Mrs. Edith Hurd, his wife; Mrs. Charles E. Hurd, his mother, and a cousin, Miss Dorothy Ridgeway, were at Hurd's bedside when he died. They had rushed to the hospital from their homes here early today, when word came that Hurd was sinking rapidly.

Father Arrives Too Late
His father, an employee in the Santa Ana post office, left here shortly after 3 o'clock, but was not able to reach the hospital before his son's death.

In addition to his widow, his mother and father, Hurd is survived by one sister, Miss Dorothy O. Hurd, a student in the California Conservatory of Music, Stockton. She arrived here Tuesday to be with her brother.

Lauren Hurd, known to his most intimate friends as "Pat," was well known in Orange county. Popular with his fellow officers, he also made friends on the road, where he had worked for the past 18 months.

The indirect cause of Hurd's death was a motorcycle accident on South Main street, near Delhi, on Nov. 9, 1925. His machine collided with an automobile, reported to have been suddenly driven out onto the highway from a cross street. Hurd suffered a fractured right arm, just above the elbow. The injury was not considered serious at the time.

When the bone did not mend, surgeons performed an operation, in November, 1926. At this time the arm was rebroken and ligaments, which had grown over the ends of the bones, scraped away.

Operation Unsuccessful
This operation was unsuccessful and several weeks ago it was decided to perform another operation, this time taking a piece of the shin bone from one leg and grafting it to the broken arm.

That was the operation performed Tuesday. It was a long, tedious task for the surgeons and the amount of anesthetic it became

BAR MEASURE IS MADE LAW BY GOVERNOR

Bill Giving California Attorneys Power to Govern Own Practices Is Signed

DEFEAT PENSION TAX

State Executive Will Lose No Time in Fixing Signature to Budget Proposal

(By United Press)
SACRAMENTO, March 31.—The self-governing bar bill, by which attorneys of California are given the power to govern and regulate their own practices, was made a law by Governor Young's signature today.

The measure, by Senators H. C. Nelson, of Eureka, and Frank C. Weller, of Los Angeles, provides for a bar corporation with two types of members, active and inactive. Every attorney is an active member until by his own request, he becomes inactive.

Community property, abolition of intercommunity divorce, Hebrew kosher meat and the biennial budget were among the unrelated subjects ready for their final passage today into the governor's office today.

Favorable committee recommendation was given Governor Young's $194,000,000 budget bill in the upper house, with the result that the measure now is on the second reading today and will be up for final adoption tomorrow.

Will Sign Promptly
Governor Young has announced he will sign promptly the budget bill when it comes to his office. He will thereby press the button signaling the release of a flood of bills awaiting passage of the budgets, such as the Breed gasoline tax and highway measures, new state boards and other carrying appropriations.

The important community property bill, by Senator H. C. Nelson, of Eureka, appeared to be riding to early adoption in the assembly today, when the measure was handled by the lower house with a "do pass" committee vote. It gives the wife a present, existing and equal property interest with her husband, instead of an expectancy or inherited interest as at present.

Divorce would be made speedier by the Rochester measure, abolishing the present law prohibiting a man or woman from remarrying within a year after the termination of a divorce decree. The bill was handed to the assembly by its judiciary committee, without recommendation.

The Lyon Hebrew kosher meat bill, prescribing drastic penalties for sale of kosher meat or kosher food when it is not manufactured or prepared strictly according to the Jewish ritual, was before the assembly today with a favorable committee vote.

Adopt Reorganization Bills
In its late session yesterday, the senate adopted two of Governor Young's reorganization bills, creating the department of natural resources and the governor's "cabinet" of department heads. These measures had now passed by the assembly and now before the governor for signature.

The new department would consist of four divisions, of mines and mining, forestry, parks and fish and game. A salary of $6000 a year would be paid the director.

Plane Crash Kills Naval Commander
WASHINGTON, March 31.—Com. Robert W. Cabanis, commanding the aircraft tender Arctostook, was killed today in an airplane crash during maneuvers in Guantanamo bay with the U. S. fleet, according to navy department advices.

Cabanis was a passenger in a plane which crashed. None of the other personnel was killed, but several were injured.

The message to the department failed to give details of the accident.

New Trial Is Denied Harry Sinclair

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Justice William Hitz today denied the motion for a new trial in the case of Harry Sinclair, oil magnate, convicted of contempt of the senate.

Government and defense attorneys were told they could argue at 10 a. m., tomorrow, the question whether the conviction is one or four counts.

A minimum sentence of one to four months depends on the outcome of Hitz's ruling on this point.

MRS. COCKBURN DENIED PORTION OF BIG ESTATE

Woman's Claim of Kinship To Lotta Crabtree Is Disposed of

(By United Press)
BOSTON, March 31.—"Lotta Crabtree was the last of this Crabtree family."

The opinion of Judge, William M. Prest, on record in probate court here today, thus disposed of the claims of Mrs. Charlotte Cockburn, of San Gabriel, Calif., seeking a share in the estate of the once famous actress.

The $3,000,000 lawsuit over the will of the late actress brought to this city of blue-stockinged culture tales of Tombstone, Ariz., in its heyday when uncensored frontier life and frequent gun play characterized it as one of the toughest towns in the west.

In the silver mad town, where "nearly every man died with his boots on" and "the prettiest girls west of the Mississippi" gathered at the "Bird Cage" and "Canaan," witnesses testified, Mrs. Cockburn was born.

She based her claim for a share of the estate on the contention that she was the daughter of John A. and Annie Crabtree and thus was a niece of the once famous actress.

Commenting on the will, in giving his findings, Judge Prest stated that Lotta Crabtree was the last of that particular family.

Mrs. Cockburn's claim was the last of 17 filed by reputed relatives of the dead comedienne. All claims now have been denied. Mrs. Cockburn has the right to appeal to the state supreme judicial court, but because of the nature of Judge Prest's findings it was believed the higher court would sustain the decision.

GIRLS ASK GRANGE TO PAY THEIR DRUNK CHARGE FINES

Harold ("Red") Grange, football hero, who has turned the tide of battle in many spectacular clashes on the gridiron, was today said to have been called upon by two pretty Hollywood moving picture actresses to rush to Huntington Beach with $100 of the Grange and Pyle earnings to pay their fines for being drunk.

The girls, Gail Webster, 22, and Marjorie Stewart, 20, who said they had met Grange on the Hollywood moving picture lots, telephoned the famous red head in Los Angeles to hurry down and pay the fines levied by the Huntington Beach police judge, police in the beach city said, but up until noon today the pigskin hero had not appeared. The girls and Harry Anderson, 36, 1312 Magnolia

DEMANDS ON CANTONESE BEING DRAWN

U. S. Minister MacMurray Is Acting with English And Japanese at Peking

BLOCKADE SUGGESTED

Document Is Expected to State Foreign Claims on Destruction at Nanking

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, March 31.—American Minister MacMurray, acting with the British and Japanese ministers at Peking, is drawing up joint demands on the Nationalist government relating to the Nanking riots and the anti-foreign situation in Nationalist territory, the United Press learned today.

Secretary Kellogg declined to confirm this information or comment upon it.

The United Press understands that separate proposals were submitted by MacMurray and the other two ministers and that a tentative joint draft has been worked out and submitted to the respective home governments.

The final document is expected to provide for statement of foreign claims to be submitted later for destruction of American and other foreign lives and property at Nanking March 24. It is also expected to demand guarantees against recurrences elsewhere of such incidents.

There is understood to be some lack of unanimity among the three powers regarding incorporation of an ultimatum.

Great Britain, during the informal Peking negotiations, is understood to have suggested the powers blockade the Yangtze river, unless the Nationalist government acquiesces.

The U. S. government, it is understood, has not yet agreed to this. Whether Great Britain is still seeking a joint ultimatum for a Yangtze blockade or contemplating possible independent action of this kind could not be ascertained.

JOHNSON IS ASKED TO REPORT ON DAM

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—Senator Hiram Johnson, now en route to California from Washington, D. C., today was invited by Governor Young to come to Sacramento and report to the California state legislature on the Boulder dam situation.

Governor Young's message will be delivered to Senator Johnson aboard the train that is carrying him to the Pacific coast.

"I have been much interested in the selection of a Boulder dam investigation commission by Secretary of Interior the Work," said Governor Young, "and as far as I know, the members of the commission are men of high caliber. Professor Durand, California's representative, has a splendid reputation, and I know he will work for the best interests of the state in this matter."

Mob Jeers, Hisses L. A. City Council

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—A riot squad was called to the city hall here today when incensed property owners of Highland Park and Arroyo Seco jeered and hissed members of the city council.

Acting Mayor Boyle Workman declared that he had received positive information that the throng, protesting park proceedings in their district, intended to resort to mob violence.

More than 100 members of the angry crowd, objecting to the Victory Park plan, which would assess the district $1,500,000, were escorted from the room by police.

French Area Is Invaded by Chinese Mobs

(By United Press)
PEKING, March 31.—Nationalist troops at Nanking pulled down the flag of the abandoned American consulate and tore it to pieces, it was reported here today.

U. S. Minister MacMurray ordered the American consuls at Changsha and Chungking to close the consulates and remove the archives to Hankow as soon as Americans are evacuated from those cities. Evacuation of Americans throughout the upper Yangtze valley was reported progressing satisfactorily.

The Cantonese continued firing at destroyers and refugee ships on the Yangtze river between Nanking and Shanghai, it was reported.

All Americans in the vicinity of Swatow except six Catholics have been concentrated at the city for evacuation.

CHINESE INVADING FRENCH CONCESSION

LONDON, March 31.—A dispatch from Shanghai to the Exchange Telegraph company today said Chinese mobs were frequently breaking through unguarded sections of the French concession to rush weakly held barriers despite the firing of Annamite soldiers in the French service.

Such invasions, the dispatch said, necessitated frequent corraling of the invaders in the international settler. Many armed Chinese were arrested.

Twenty-nine marines have been landed at Foochow to guard the foreign quarters there from invasion by Nationalist demonstrators, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Hong Kong said.

Plans for speedy evacuation if necessary, were made, but the situation was quiet today.

150,000 MINERS TO WALK OUT TONIGHT

INDIANAPOLIS, March 31.—Work whistles were sounded at coal mines in the central competitive field today for what is expected to be the last time in months.

At midnight tonight 150,000 miners in western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa will walk out with expiration of the agreement under which the United Mine Workers of America have been operating in the bituminous field.

Union officials declared today the shut down would not be complete. It is claimed many mine owners have agreed to agree to continue operation on the basis of expiring contract.

The strike order was issued by John L. Lewis, president of the miners' union, when operators refused to renew the working agreement providing for a basic wage of $7.50 a day. The agreement has been in force since August 16, 1926.

Spanish Steamer Reported Afire

LONDON, March 31.—The Spanish steamer Tordera, with many Spanish troops aboard, was after off Velez Gomeria rocks today, a Lloyd's dispatch from Gibraltar said. The steamship Gallia was going to the Tordera's assistance after receiving an S.O.S.

(Lloyd's register lists a Spanish owned steamship Tordera, home port Barcelona, of 1835 tons displacement).

Credit Unions Bill Approved
SACRAMENTO, March 31.—Incorporation of credit unions is provided by state law under the measure by Senator J. James Hester, of Santa Barbara, signed by Governor Young today. The new law vests the powers of supervising and examining such unions in the state commissioner of corporations.

PROMISES TO PAY LOSSES OF POWERS

Canton Commander Says He Will Atone If Trouble Caused by Nationalists

EQUALITY DEMANDED

Defense Measures Provoke Mob Action Claims Leader of Southern Forces

(By United Press)
SHANGHAI, March 31.—Marshal Chiang Kai Shek, commander-in-chief of the Nationalist army, today promised to indemnify foreigners or foreign nations for the destruction of life and property at Nanking provided it were proved that Nationalist soldiers were responsible for last week's incident at the Yangtze river port.

Chiang received foreign newsmen in conference and made his statement to them.

He protested against the arrangement for the defense of Shanghai and said that defense preparations and the presence of soldiers and warships "was causing growing tension between Chinese and foreigners."

The status of Shanghai, said the marshal, must be changed.

"The presence of barbed wire and sand bags is most humiliating," the marshal said. "You had no such preparations when the northern troops were here and why do you have them now? We feel that this represents discrimination in favor of China's militarists."

Cause Growing Tension
"I am able to maintain law and order and the presence of soldiers and warships and the continued preparations with barbed wire are causing growing tension between the Chinese and foreigners."

"The Nanking incident has been exaggerated abroad. I personally ordered the commanding officer there to deal severely with persons responsible for endangering the lives and property of foreigners. If the Nationalists were guilty, we will take full responsibility and pay indemnities."

"If there are no displays of defenses and no martial law," Chiang said, "there would be no provocation to the mobs and no trouble. We are reminded daily of trouble by these preparations which defeat their own ends and arouse a feeling of insecurity and danger. The settlement authorities are taking measures usually taken by empire builders against colonies, not measures one nation adopts toward another."

"The defense preparations in the settlement are betting the settlement toward savages or semi-civilized colonies. The situation is most intolerable and as the Nationalist leader I feel this indignity."

Chiang was extremely earnest in the two-hour interview. He appealed to the foreign press to represent the news fairly and without exaggeration, remarking that during revolutions the unexpected frequently happens.

Wants Friendship of Powers
He said he was seeking the friendship of the powers, but that he demanded equality for China.

Quo Tai-Chi, the new foreign commissioner here, translated Chiang's remarks. The marshal refused to answer questions concerning the alleged growth of Communism in China.

"I am in an impossible position," Chiang said. "The settlement authorities will not permit the Chinese to regulate law and order, yet when trouble comes we are expected to take responsibility. Shanghai is becoming more tense daily and that situation cannot long obtain. We are not anti-foreign, but we certainly are pro-Chinese."

American and British citizens in Chungking fled to the protection of ships and foreign compound today as inflamed natives prepared to hold anti-foreign demonstrations.

Feeling against Americans was particularly strong, it was reported, and even the U. S. consul and vice-consul took refuge on the U. S. S. Monocacy.

Standard Oil company installations at Chungking were sealed by the consul before he went aboard the ship. The American-Oriental bank was closed. American business houses were closing through the day in an attempt to forestall native depredations.

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—The second game of the series between Los Angeles and Seattle was postponed today when workmen were unable to get the wet grounds into shape for play.

AMPHITHEATER IN ARIZONA TO BE USED AGAIN

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 31.—Not to be outdone by peoples who roamed the great southwest in ages past, modern man plans to use Echo canyon, a huge natural amphitheater, as a place of amusement.

The canyon at the foot of Camel Back mountain is being converted into a modern show house, and where generations ago camp fires and torches lighted the night, electricity will illuminate the bowl.

The amphitheater, which is estimated to easily seat 25,000 persons, is a part of Camel Back mountain that in the days of the setting sun resembles a huge pink camel sleeping on the sands of a surrounding desert. The huge bowl, students of the prehistoric life in Arizona believe, was used by aborigines as a place of worship. Evidence found in a cave in one side of the bowl, they say, show that the place once was used for tribal sacrifices.

In this place thousands of people are thought to have gathered for their ceremonies. Gradually sloping down from the rim, the huge bowl provided easy resting places for the worshippers of a former day. The cactus covered gravel that forms the flooring of the bowl has turned up religious tokens, prayer sticks and short pieces of bamboo stopped at each end with mud and which contained plant seeds.

It will be an amusement and entertainment arena for residents of the Salt River valley, which centers about Phoenix. The mountain and canyon are on the fringe of the valley which is watered by the huge Roosevelt dam. In this valley, where a few years ago only a desert greeted the eye, now are thousands of acres of citrus fruits and cotton.

The bowl has perfect acoustic properties. A person standing in the center speaking in an ordinary tone of voice, it is estimated, could be heard by 25,000 persons, seated around the amphitheater.

APPOINT RECEIVER FOR REALTY FIRM

ATLANTA, Ga., March 31.—Appointment of a receiver for the Adair Realty and trust company, holder of extensive property in Florida, was announced here today in U. S. district court.

Bonds of the company, one of the south's largest real estate firms, are held by persons throughout the southern states.

Rumors of impending failure have been circulated since the deflation of Florida real estate values.

Two Bank Bandits Get $2000 In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—With bank holdups almost a daily occurrence during the last week, two bandits raided a Bank of Italy branch here today and escaped in an automobile with $2000 in cash.

The pair walked into the bank, inquired the way to Redondo and after procuring directions jerked out revolvers, covered employees and helped themselves to money in the teller's cages.

They then backed out of the door, where they are reported to have entered an old touring car and drove away quickly.

One of the bandits was described by bank employees as a youth of about 23 years of age, five feet, 11 inches in height, with a highly freckled face. He was attired in a gray suit of clothes.

Make Compromise In Rate Hearing

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—With the hearing before the California railroad commission adjourned until Tuesday, the cities of Glendale and Burbank had under consideration today the Pacific Electric railway's proposed six months experimental rate.

Adjournment was taken last night after a compromise had been effected with the delegation from Glendale accepting a 20 per cent increase in commutation rates, the railway company agreeing to a 15-cent one way fare and a 25-cent round trip for that city.

No Damage Claim In Boat Seizure

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The state department today said the Panama government had not filed or given intention of filing any claim for damages resulting from recent seizure of the Federal ship, an alleged rum runner, off the California coast. Published reports in California had claimed such action was contemplated or had been taken.

Arkansas Farm Lands Flooded

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 31.—Snow Lake, Ark., and the farming community for miles around it was under several feet of water today with the entire area evacuated. Waters from the roaring Mississippi were turned loose on the community last night when a portion of the river levee gave way and workmen who were busy throwing up reinforcements fled.

Man With Feet Frozen Rebels At Police Speed

A man with frozen feet was found in Santa Ana last night. He was Officer Tobin, 57, arrested by Officers Barnard and Hershby on a vagrancy charge. The officers attempted to hurry him along to jail, but Tobin rebelled, telling the officers his feet were frozen.

An examination at the jail disclosed that Tobin's feet probably were frozen. He was taken to the Orange county hospital for treatment. Blood poisoning had developed but the man was not in a serious condition, police stated.

DISCOUNT PLOT TO KILL FORD IN AUTO CRASH

Henry Ford, injured Sunday, as attempting to avoid appearance as a witness.

He said that not only was he without cause to order investigation of such a rumor, but he had no reason for any investigation of any sort into the accident, at this time.

Raymond made his statement at the request of Ford attorneys who were disturbed by corridor gossip and by matter published in newspapers.

The court directed the jurors that they must not permit any consideration of Ford's injuries to enter their minds.

The injuries to Ford may delay the trial of the million dollar Aaron Sapirio libel suit against the world's richest man. Attorneys for Sapirio today said they would insist on putting Ford on the witness stand before they close their case.

Although the accident occurred Sunday and Ford was taken from his home to the hospital Tuesday, news of the injuries was rigidly suppressed until yesterday.

Soon after it became known, a statement was issued by the Ford Motor company, telling of the accident and saying "Mr. Ford strongly deprecates the suggestion that the accident was the result of intent on anyone's part."

Indicates Violence Attempt That was not at first taken to indicate an attempt at violence, but later in the day Senator James A. Reed, chief of Ford counsel in the Sapirio trial, asked newspapermen reporting the trial "what these rumors of an attempt to murder Mr. Ford were about?"

Although other members of Ford's counsel immediately assured newspapermen there was no reason to suspect an attempted assassination, investigations were started. Little information was available, however, except from associates of Ford.

The accident occurred near the Ford home, and the motor magnate was able to make his way to his estate without calling aid.

Danger of development of pneumonia frequently exists when injuries force binding of the chest and back, physicians said, and a corps of nurses, under direction of Dr. R. D. McClure, head surgeon of the hospital, watched constantly at the bedside to detect signs of difficulty in breathing.

After exhibiting much reticence to being quoted in the affair, a high Ford official, one of the few who have had an opportunity to speak with him since the accident, admitted that circumstances surrounding the accident were such that they "should be cleared up if possible."

Because of a strict Ford rule in regard to interviews, this official's name could not be used.

"Mr. Ford has a quick eye," this official said. "He declared he thought the circumstances surrounding the accident were peculiar and he believed that the accident could have been avoided by the driver of the car had he desired."

Mrs. Edsel Ford told the United Press that so far as she knew there was no actual investigation being made. But in view of the secrecy surrounding the investigation and other details, it was possible that she would not have been acquainted with the details.

One of the investigations of the accident, it was understood, was by detectives for the U. S. district court, where the libel suit is being tried. It was recalled that a dispute occurred between attorneys early in the trial over whether Ford had been served with a subpoena by Sapirio's aides. Attorneys for Ford finally agreed that he would be within call if he were needed to testify and counsel for Sapirio asserted he would be needed.

Ford has not appeared on a witness stand since he was questioned in his libel suit against the Chicago Tribune, several years ago.

Ford suffered a slight concussion of the brain in the accident, but his physicians said he had entirely recovered from it and also from "transient hemiparesis and hemiplegia." He still was suffering, however, from severe contusions over the ribs and back and from strained muscles. He was taken to the hospital, it was indicated, so that his chest and back could be put in splints to insure proper recovery.

ALLEGED HOLDUP MAN HELD MERCED, Calif., March 31.—James Watson, 55, was under arrest here today for the holdup of a ticket agent in the local stage depot. The amount stolen was $115.

"Lily rash" is an eruption of the skin caused by contact with the juice from the stems of flowers, chiefly narcissi, hyacinths, daffodils and tulips.

SAY WOMAN DIED FROM ACCIDENT IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. Faith L. Mettler, 43, of Fullerton, who was killed Tuesday near Alamitos, where her roadster skidded and overturned in an irrigation ditch, came to her death in an accidental manner from drowning, a coroner's jury, which was to hold an inquest at Seal Beach this afternoon, was to be told by an autopsy surgeon, of the Orange county hospital, who made a post-mortem examination yesterday. Coroner Charles Brown announced today. The jurors were to go to the Mottell funeral parlors, Long Beach, where the body was being held, and then were to return to Seal Beach to make their report.

It was at first believed that Mrs. Mettler came to her death from internal injuries, Brown said. She was taken from the wreckage of the machine by R. D. Green, Los Alamitos real estate agent, and died on the way to the Long Beach Community hospital. No funeral arrangements have been announced.

LAUREN HURD, STATE OFFICER, IS DEAD

necessary to administer to Hurd proved too hard on the heart, it was said.

Hurd was a native of Massachusetts. He was born in North Adams and was educated in the schools of that city. Later he worked on the North Adams daily paper, coming to California with his wife and family in 1921.

Soon after his arriving here, he was employed in the editorial department of The Register, working there until June 1, 1923. On June 6 he was appointed to the Santa Ana police force, as a patrolman. He held this position until Sept. 9, 1924, when he resigned to become motorcycle officer in the city of Orange.

On State Squad

Hurd resigned from the Orange police department in September, 1925, to accept a position as a state traffic officer, where he had since been employed. In spite of his injured arm, he had been working for the state until the day prior to his going to Los Angeles for his final operation.

The body will be brought here this afternoon and funeral services will be held in the Winkler Mission funeral home. No time has been set for the services.

Fencing Master In Psychopathic Ward

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—Lt. Gerard De Merveaux, Hollywood fencing master, was being held in the psychopathic ward of the General hospital today, on a warrant charging insanity, sworn to by counsel for J. Stuart Blackton, motion picture producer.

The insanity complaint served as an aftermath to a $25,000 "horse-whipping" damage suit, in which the dapper Frenchman was granted $500 for an alleged whipping administered by the movie magnate.

De Merveaux will be kept under observation pending a hearing next week. Meanwhile officials were investigating his status as an alien.

Wife Desertion British Scandal

LONDON, March 31.—The vanishing of husbands has become a national scandal in England, in the view of Sir Archibald Salvidge, who has started a campaign against wife desertion.

Sir Archibald points out a legal anomaly which permits a husband to desert his wife in Britain and take shelter in certain of the colonies or dominions, and Harry Snell, member of parliament, plans to introduce in the house of commons a bill to protect deserted wives.

Move to Restrict Use of Cosmetics

SPOKANE, Wn., Girls of Lewis and Clark high school here will use "no excess of cosmetics." Meeting a movement to ban lipstick, rouge and powder, the girls' federation of the school compromised. The result will apply to about 1000 girls.

The "treaty" provides that the girls shall not wear an excess of jewelry. High heels, gauze hosiery and silk dresses fall under ban during school hours.

ANAHEIM MAN HURT WHEN TOOLS FALL

Claude L. Smith, 47, an employee of the Union Oil company, on the Stearns lease, near Atwood, may die from injuries received last night when heavy oil well tools fell upon his head, fracturing his skull, according to a report from the Fullerton hospital to which he was removed.

Smith lives at 308 North Lemon street Anaheim. The heavy tools were said to have fallen 20 feet from a derrick.

British food experts say Cleopatra ate onions and used garlic and other highly scented ingredients in her food.

Motorist Denies Reckless Driving

Joe Martinez, Santa Ana, charged with reckless driving in connection with an automobile accident at Bishop and South Main streets last Monday night, in which
J. A. McDowell, 69, 502 West Fourth street, was run down and seriously injured, pleaded not guilty to the charge in Judge J. F.
Talbot's court today. His trial was set for April 7, at 10 a. m.
Ball in the case was fixed at $100, which Martinez was unable to provide.

The condition of McDowell, who is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital, was reported improved today. He is suffering from a fractured hip and other injuries.

Pekingese Pets'
Kisses Declared
Pyorrhea Cause

LONDON, March 31.—Pyorrhea has spread among Pekingese pets so extensively that H. R. Oswald, a Hammersmith coroner, has issued a warning against people kissing dogs.

The comment was made at an inquest of a woman who contracted "trench mouth," a form of pyorrhea, after being bitten on the mouth by her Pekingese, which she was caressing.

Veterinary surgeons support Coroner Oswald, as do the London medical men, and a campaign of education has been launched.

METROPOLITAN WATER BILL AND COUNTY FLOOD CONTROL
MEASURE SURE OF PASSAGE

Returning today from Sacramento where he attended committee hearing upon the Orange county flood control district bill and the metropolitan water district bill, Supervisor S. H. Finley of Santa Ana, reported that both bills were unanimously reported out of committee in the state senate yesterday, and both have virtually perfect prospects for passage into law.

Supervisor Finley went to Sacramento with Attorney L. A. West, author of the flood control bill, and County Auditor W. C. Jerome.
West was sent north by the board of supervisors, while Jerome and Finley made the trip at their own expense. Finley having requested Jerome's assistance at the committee hearings. The supervisors declined to finance Jerome's trip, by a vote of 3 to 2. Finley was called north as an official member of the Colorado River Aqueduct association, in connection with the metropolitan water district bill, and also attended the hearing on the county's flood control bill.

Senator Chester M. Kline handled the Orange county bill at yesterday's hearing, said Finley. There was no opposition to the bill.
Having passed the assembly, where it was introduced by Assemblyman
C. D. Ball, of Santa Ana, the bill now goes to the senate floor for consideration. If passed there, it will go back to the assembly for approval of amendments made in the senate.

The metropolitan water bill now goes to the senate floor and, if passed, will then go to the assembly, which has not yet considered it.

Today's donations by Orange county citizens to the "Vaughn Fund," being raised through the columns of the Register for Frank Vaughn, Orange county state traffic officer, who was permanently disabled in a motorcycle accident last summer, reached their highest point, when $108.50 was received in checks from persons interested in his case.

Vaughn is in the Santa Fe hospital, Los Angeles, recuperating from an operation in which surgeons amputated his leg. Aside from this his left hand, crushed, is stiff and probably can never be of use to him again.

Through it all, Vaughn has smiled. He has smiled because he knows that he must keep smiling if he is to win his battle of keeping his family together. A new baby, which was born just a few weeks ago, is another reason he must smile and carry on in his fight. The American Legion has been of great help, financially, and it was through this organization and others that he has managed so far to maintain his little home at Costa Mesa.

Several of the letters received with checks today, show the kind heartedness of persons who have answered the call to help Vaughn.
One of the letters is as follows:

"Enclosed is small check for the Vaughn fund. Surely it would be too bad should the home of the wife and little children of this unfortunate man be lost to them through no fault of theirs or his.
I surely hope that this may be averted and am glad to see the Register doing its part to that end.
"There is no need making known the identity of this writer. Simply enter the contribution as coming from 'Sympathy.'"

Here is another:
"Find check for Frank Vaughn, as my pittance for one who has more trouble than I have. Am sorry to see the donations so few.
Yours truly, E. C. Kersey."

Persons who desire to aid financially, this officer, are asked to mail their checks to "The Vaughn Fund," care Register, Santa Ana.

Over Seven Hundred Room-Size Rugs to Select From

One of the largest stocks of quality floor coverings may now be found at Chandler's. More than seven hundred room-size rugs —think of it! A fact that is of important significance to anyone who plans new floor covering, whether for one room or for an entire house.

We are showing the latest patterns from America's leading looms, including Whittall's, Sanford's and others.

Included in this notable showing you will find Anglo-Persian, America's finest rugs—together with two other types of Wiltons, Body Brussels, Seamless Chenille, etc. We also carry in stock 10-foot and 12-foot widths of plain carpet from which rugs of any length may be made.

A feature is the large showing of odd size rugs up to 11 feet, 3 inches by 21 feet, which will fill every floor covering requirement in any size or shape of room.

basis of price alone will certainly prove the most expensive in the long run.
Honest, genuine quality must be woven into each rug to insure lasting satisfaction.

The safe way to buy rugs is to make your selection at a store which deals in rugs and floor coverings of nationally advertised and nationally recognized quality.

In this way you are pro-

$25,472 ASKED FROM CITY FOR STORM DAMAGE

Demanding $25,472 judgment for alleged damages caused to their orange grove by the recent flood in Santiago creek, Wallace E. Dennis, and his wife, May E. Dennis, today filed suit in superior court against the City of Orange.

The complaint holds the city responsible for a lease on gravel beds in the creek, adjoining the Dennis ranch on East Chapman avenue, Orange, under which lease excavations were said to have been made, causing the creek waters to be diverted from their natural channel to flow against the Dennis property.

It is claimed that 1,468 acres of ground, 150 orange trees, and two rows of eucalyptus trees that served as a windbreak were washed away. The sum of $7340 damages is asked for this loss.

Can't Cultivate Trees, Claim
Another $2500 is sought because 25 orange trees on the edge of the washout cannot be cultivated and have their roots exposed. An additional $4000 judgment is wanted for loss of support to the remaining 11,523 acres of the ranch.
Depreciation to this remaining acreage is assessed at $11,532. Loss of a pipe line is made the basis of a claim for $100.

The complaint, which was filed through Attorneys McFadden and Holden, and Leo J. Fries, of Anaheim, cites an agreement entered into by the city and George A.
Simpson, August 16, 1924, under which Simpson obtained excavating rights on the city's 14-acre tract in the creek bed, adjoining the 13-acre Dennis property.

Assert Lease Violated
Simpson it was said, assigned his lease to the firm of Kavanagh and Twelch, which firm conducted dredging operations there. The plaintiffs claim that the dredging was carried on nearer than 30 feet from the west bank of the creek, in violation of the lease terms. A channel was dredged along the west bank near the Dennis boundary line, it is claimed.

When the flood came the waters sought the lower levels thus created, it is said, and undermined first the row of gum trees along the boundary line of the Dennis ranch, then the grove itself, washing large quantities of "rich and fertile" soil away, with the trees thereon.

A new arrangement was made between the city and Kavanagh and Twelch on last November 20, it is stated, but the operations complained of had occurred before that, says the complaint. These operations are declared to have been negligent and a nuisance.

New Trial Plea Argument to Be Heard April 8

Argument on a motion for a new trial in the case of Raymond R.
Remington, convicted of robbing the First National bank of Olive in 1924, was postponed today by Superior Judge Homer G. Ames at the request of Defense Counsel Franklin West.

West asked for more time in which to prepare his argument for the motion, which he said would be based on the contention that evidence in the Remington case did not support the verdict.

West's brother, District Attorney Z. B. West Jr., did not oppose postponement. Judge Ames continued the case to April 8, the last day on which sentence on Remington may be pronounced. The law, it is said, requires that, following a conviction, sentence must be pronounced within a certain period, or the defendant goes free.

Youths Jailed as Burglar Suspects

Two youths, 17 and 19 years old, were arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Ed McClellan and Roscoe Knight last night and are being held in the county jail on burglary charges.

The boys are alleged to have broken into a service station at Placentia February 16, at which time seven automobile tires, valued at $100, were taken, according to McClellan.

One of the youths was arrested at Costa Mesa and the other was captured at San Diego. One of the boys said he lived at Del Mar.
The other gave a Santa Ana street address.

Court Notes
To Terminate Joint-Tenancy
Mrs. Annie Stutholt, of Orange, has filed a petition in superior court to terminate the joint-tenancy interest of her late husband,
W. F. Stutholt, in their community property. The estate consists of a total value not stated in the petition. Attorney D. G. Wetlin represents Mrs. Stutholt in the proceedings.

Legal Notice
The Board of Education, High and Junior College Boards of the city of Santa Ana will receive sealed bids for general janitor, science, art, kindergarten, mechanic arts, physical education and other supplies and equipment on April 12, 1927, at two o'clock, at the office of the secretary, 119 Church Street, Santa Ana; all bids to be in accordance with specifications on file at above office.
Signed, E. H. PHILLIPS,
Secretary.

Anaheim unit members sent an invitation to Mrs. Josephine Lykke, president of the Santa Ana auxiliary, for her and her members to join them in the evening meeting in Anaheim when she will be presented. Those who plan to go are requested to telephone Mrs. Lykke at 388W not later than Saturday and she will make the reservations.

Fifteenth street, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wilkens are receiving the congratulations and good wishes of their friends on their recent marriage, which took place in Colton on Wednesday, March 16.

Mrs. Wilkens was Miss Lucille Beltz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.
E. Beltz of 215 East Fifteenth street. The wedding was a quiet one.
Mrs. Beltz accompanying the young people to San Bernardino where the license was secured, and thence to Colton, where the marriage service was read by the Rev. Oscar Haines, pastor of the Advent Christian church, a family friend.

The bride was very charmingly gowned in soft silk crepe in the new shape of blue. A great cluster of orange blossoms very appropriately decked the living room of the parsonage home, where the ceremony was held.

Mr. Wilkens is the son of J. H.
Wilkens of Orange.

a Hill & Carden mirror will

There are some things even your closest friend won't tell you.

"How does my new hat look?" often brings a "Good"—when it should be "Good Grief!"

But a Hill & Carden mirror will tell you the gospel truth—and when you realize that one hat can look better than another just as one horse can run faster than another—you really should seek these headquarters for the quarters you are going to hire for your head.

To Those Who Suffer Stomach Distress, Gas and Indigestion

All Druggists Make This Offer

Money Back If One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

The way has been found to combine Pepsin with other corrective stomach agents so that it will do the most good in the shortest possible time.

Why bother with slow actors, since one tablespoonful of this splendid and pleasant liquid remedy usually causes gas, bloating, heaviness, heartburn or that upset condition of the stomach, when due to excesses or faulty elimination to speedily vanish.

And why should any man or woman suffer another hour with indigestion or annoying stomach misery from such causes when the remedy that acts almost instantly can be easily procured.

But there is more to say about this remarkable remedy—something that will interest thousands of despondent people.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin not only quickly relieves stomach distress of this sort but is compounded to conquer stubborn indigestion or dyspepsia and put an end to dizziness, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness and despondency, when these distressing troubles are caused by stomach disturbance of the kind mentioned.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin is pleasant to take and after it has helped to put your stomach in a clean and healthy condition, just notice how much better you look and feel, for besides correcting stomach disorders caused by excesses or faulty elimination this supremely good remedy that fine upbuilding elixir that causes you to work with vim, eat with relish and sleep soundly.—Adv.

LOCAL CHAMBER DELEGATES TO ATTEND MEET

The board of directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will be represented at the annual meeting of the Boulder Dam association, according to indications at the meeting of the board this forenoon.

The association meeting will be held at Las Vegas, Nevada, on Saturday, April 16, and the conference will be the occasion for the gathering of a large number of Southern California men for personal investigation of the sites at Boulder canyon and Black canyon.

Officers of the association have taken initial steps looking to the organization of a big caravan of automobiles for the trip to the Nevada city and the dam sites. The party will start on April 15 from some point in Southern California to be designated later. As tentatively planned, visits to the dam sites will be made on Sunday, April 17, and the return trip will be by way of the Virgin river district and other points of interest involved in the proposed plan of checking the flow of the Colorado. It is expected the Santa Ana contingent will reach home on Wednesday, April 21.

COUNTY EDUCATORS TO MEET SATURDAY

Examination of teachers' credentials, consideration of applications for life diplomas and temporary certificates, discussion of rules and regulations for promotion and graduation of elementary school pupils, and other routine matters, will be taken up at the regular monthly meeting of the county board of education set for Saturday, April 2, at the board rooms in the Hall of Records, according to R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools.

According to Mitchell, the number of applications for teaching positions this year is greater than in previous years, many of which are from points in the east and middle west.

French 'Kickers' Telling How to Operate Country

PARIS, March 31.—Organized "kicking" to tell the government how to govern is under way in Paris.

More than 1000 already have joined the "Syndicate of Kickers" in the ward where the founder, Marcel Chartrain, lives.

The "kickers" believe that they can collect and put into useful form the complaints of the masses and their suggestions for remedies. Partisan politics are banned, for the "kickers" are organized for the benefit of their stomachs and all that affects them directly or indirectly.

Movie Chatterbox

Producers, ever on the alert for new luminaries in the cinema heavens, have discovered the glitter of a new star—Barbara Kent.

With only four pictures to her credit, the lovely 17-year-old girl already has earned the right to have her name blazoned in theater lights. What she will do in the next few years depends largely upon "Uncle Carl" Laemmle and his associates, to whom she is under contract.

Barbara was one of the 1927 crop of Wampas Baby Stars—a group of girls selected each year as the ones who are most likely to traverse the difficult road to celluloid fame. She was chosen on the strength of her first three pictures, all westerns, before the release of "Flesh and the Devil," in which she scored her biggest hit.

That, in itself is unusual. "Cowboy heroines" are seldom heard of in Hollywood. Their fame is in the great middle west. Western productions, although big money-makers, attract but slight attention in the film hamlet. There are too many of the so-called big players here to "hog" the spotlight.

Clarence Brown borrowed Miss Kent for an important role in "Flesh and the Devil." I am told that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials were so pleased with her work that they tried to buy her contract from Universal but were given the "cold shoulder"—despite the fact that Universal was reported to be dubious about exercising their optional rights.

"I want to do something really worth while so badly," declares the fair-eyed Barbara. "I never had any ambitions to 'crash' the movies. But now that I am in the swim, I want to go clear to the top. I don't know what plans the studio has for me except that I have been told there are big things ahead. "My one hope is that I am not cast in any more westerns. It's lots of fun making those outdoor pictures and I love to ride. But a girl has absolutely no chance for advancement in such roles. Naturally, the men are featured in cowboy films."

The decision of Ed Bigelow to retire from his position as hockey coach has caused keen regret in Harvard athletic circles. During the three years that Bigelow has been in charge, the Crimson teams have risen to the top of the heap in intercollegiate hockey.

The new Welland canal in Canada will be spanned this year by 21 bridges, of which 12 will be vertical lift, seven jackknife and two of the large swing type, according to reports.

Two Autos Are Stolen In Orange

Two roadsters of a well known make disappeared in Orange last night, one being recovered a few hours after it had been missed.

The machine of J. J. Bergmann, rancher, was taken from in front of St. John's Lutheran church and found some time later in front of the Catholic church. The gas tank was empty and it is believed that the car had been used by joy riders.

William J. Sievers, Orange, is still looking for his roadster, which was stolen while parked in front of the Colonial theater, Orange. It had not been recovered this morning.

J. C. PENNEY CO. IS CELEBRATING IT'S 25TH YEAR

Instead of the usual red, white and blue bunting employed for decorative purposes at the time of sales and anniversary celebrations, the local store of the J. C. Penney company at 309 E. 4th street, in recognition of reaching the 25th or silver year in the history of that nation-wide institution, is showing a decorative idea on the front of the store, and the interior of its show windows, quite different from anything heretofore attempted in town. The whole scheme has a silver-finish basis in keeping with the company's silver anniversary.

Large shields finished in silver, gold, blue and black, are used prominently. Three links run diagonally across the shield and within the upper link is a picture of the company's original store in 1902, the center link has a picture of one of its modern stores of today and in the lower link is a picture of the company's mammoth 18-story, steel and concrete warehouse and office building in New York.

From these shields three strands of yellow roping are fastened to two smaller shields, on one of which is inscribed "1902" and the other "1927," denoting an intervening period of twenty-five years since the company was established. A similar arrangement also is used in the interior of the show windows on a background of dazzling silver tinsel cloth. The effect obtained is decidedly striking.

April is to be a gala time in all of the 773 stores of the company, which are scattered throughout the country from coast to coast.

Manager J. C. Lansdowne said yesterday that the executives of the J. C. Penney company had been planning for the occasion for more than a year, "but," he added, "after all, the celebration is to be more a recognition of the generous response that has come to our efforts and an expression of our thankfulness and appreciation to the public, than a mere scramble for business."

"In turning this milestone in the history of our company," he continued, "we are planning for the future where greater responsibility will rest upon us for it must be admitted that in our rapid growth and expansion we must make our service better and better or suffer a reaction which will undo much of our accomplishments of the past."

"No business can stand still. It must go forward or fall behind. Naturally we shall work hard to push forward. My home is here. There is no place that I can think of in which I would rather live than here. The people here have been very generous and by serving them better day by day in every way, I expect that the local store of the J. C. Penney company will not only push forward in the confidence of the public but will take its place side by side with every interest that has local betterment at stake."

IN seeking a position of public trust, it is the custom for the candidate to make a public statement of his views of the duties of that trust.

The duty of the Board of Trustees is to transact the City's business, for the taxpayers. In doing this the Board should look after the needs of the City, and in taking care of the City's present needs, should consider and bear in mind its future needs, in order to avoid as far as possible the needless expenditure of the City's funds. Money needlessly expended is money wasted, and I am as much opposed to the waste of public money, as I am of my own personal funds.

I believe it is the duty of the Board of Trustees to see that the City gets value received for the taxpayers' money expended in the transaction of the City's business. The taxpayers have performed their full duty and obligation to this City, when they pay their just portion of the expense of carrying on the City's business, and I believe that it is not only the duty, but a binding obligation of the Board of Trustees, to see to it, that none of this money is needlessly expended in conducting the City's business.

I believe in progressiveness, in city affairs, based on sound business principles, and I am convinced that this is the only kind of progress, that will promote prosperity, encourage future growth, stabilize business, make investments safe and attract men of means and business ability to our city.

J. A. GARDINER, Candidate for Member BOARD OF TRUSTEES
First Ward, City of Santa Ana.

FEDERATION OF BOYS AT POLY HIGH FORMED

Officers for the Boys' Federation, now being organized at the Santa Ana Polytechnic High school, were nominated at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the auditorium. The election will be conducted April 12, after the spring vacations, according to Judson Riley, student body president, who acted as temporary chairman.

The Boys' Federation, it is intended, will be composed of all the boys attending the high school, banded together for the purpose of encouraging school interests.

How the Long Beach High School Boys' Federation operates was told at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Long Beach organization.

Two boys were nominated for president of the Santa Ana federation, Clifford Belding and Harvey Bear will oppose each other for the office.

The other nominees were: For vice president, Newell Vandermaast and Terry Stephenson; for secretary, Harold Breeding, Ralph White and Edmund Guard; for treasurer, Wyley Carlyle, Roger Hearn, Joe Warner and Jack Binkney; for senior class representative, Stanley Norton, Charles Ehrhorne, Harvey Durkee, and Arthur Brooks; for junior class representative, John Moffatt, Irwin Singer, Fred Humiston and Orville Schuchardt; for sophomore class representative, Thomas Cone, Clarence Speer, Warren Cook and George Berry.

PEARL NEW HEAD OF TOASTMASTER CLUB

Election of new officers and preparations for observing "Ladies Night" next Wednesday were features of last night's meeting of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Toastmasters' club at the association building.

L. B. Pearl was chosen president of the club for the next three months, succeeding Ridley C. Smith. E. E. Stefansson was elected vice president; G. O. Berry, secretary, and Ridley Smith, assistant secretary.

The program for next week will be marked by the installation of these new officers, together with a series of speeches by G. O. Berry, W. K. Hillyard, Nat H. Neff, Martin Warren and Sam Hurwitz and other members. Smith, retiring president, will serve as toastmaster.

According to R. C. Smedley, general secretary of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., there is a movement under way to organize toastmasters' clubs at all Y. M. C. A. centers in the Southland, which clubs, on being properly organized, will form a regular departmental activity of the association.

Canned Heat Is Costly for Two

It was mighty expensive canned heat that Herman Farr and B. Burke, of Santa Ana, purchased yesterday afternoon, although they did not know it at the time, according to Officers Richards and Inge, Orange, who arrested the two men on South Glassell street, Orange, late yesterday.

When the pair appeared before City Recorder G. W. Ingle, each was fined $25, with the alternative of spending 25 days in jail. When the men failed to produce the necessary money, they were brought to the county jail.

The men are said to be laborers by occupation.

PARENT TEACHER MEMBERS FROM ORANGE COUNTY ARE GUESTS AT MISSION PLAY

John Steven McGroarty, in an interesting and inspiring address before a large company of representative women, officers and members of Southern California Parent-Teacher associations, stated that if the children of the state were not permitted to see his Mission Play, he would feel that he is a failure and defeated in his purpose.

The women were honored guests at the matinee performance of the Mission Play, the event having been planned by McGroarty and his manager, Norman Sprawl, for the purpose of discussing the plan to bring school children to the play.

The author paid the women a very high tribute by stating that they represented the most important organization in America today, because it is interested in child welfare, the most important work in all of God's world.

He impressed his guests with the fact that the fine new home of the Mission play was built to history, the story of California, vital and essential, which every school boy and girl should know, and which was best taught by pictures and drama. The speaker said that if he taught history today he would do it by means of dramatization, illustrating with the scenes of the Declaration of Independence.

McGroarty told the women that this beautiful theater, fire and earthquake proof, and built to last through the ages, belonged to the people of the state, as well as the play which he and Mrs. McGroarty had presented as their gift to posterity, no profit to accrue to any individual, but all to go toward the upkeep of the landmarks of the state. He said that the children should know at what bitter cost and sacrifice California had been maintained for them, and by means of the Mission play they could learn more history of the state in two hours than by studying a book for two years.

The speaker said that there were many theaters in California but many of them are a menace to young folk and do irreparable harm. He urged mothers to be careful of what their children see and hear, and stated that in the Mission play there was not one word or action which was not uplifting.

At first it was decided to permit school children to see the play free, but McGroarty found that they felt more dignified to pay a nominal fee, and in order to admit them, the house was thrown open to them, despite the fact that it could be filled at the highest prices.

Every Parent Teacher organization in Orange county was represented at the meeting, which preceded the play, together with Mrs. Janie V. Kelsey, president of the fourth district, and her officers, and the following delegates from all the city organizations: Mrs. Fay Spangler, president; Mesdames J. Edmund Snow, C. M. Bert, Mary B. Robertson, S. I. Preble, Ruth Griffith, B. B. Walbridge, B. Cribb, Walter Fine, Ray Brown, Nell Bessel, Meade S. Johnson, C. H. Marscher, Marshall Harnois, John Bowers, J. H. Bray, Helme Wentworth, William Borah, Amelia Meagher and Olive Lopez.

Many of the representatives present made dates for pilgrimages of Orange county children to the Mission play during the spring vacation, when one chaperone for every ten children will be admitted at the rate set, and when necessary parents will be allowed to take their children at the same price, when excursions cannot be arranged.

TROJANS REFUSE TO CONCEDE CARD WIN

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—Stanford may defeat U. S. C. in the dual track meet between the two institutions at Palo Alto Saturday, but when it comes to being convinced the Trojan athletes and backers might as well be from the University of Missouri where "show me" tactics are still in vogue.

Close followers of the cardpath and field pastime predict that the Cardinal crew will finish on top by a small margin while statistical "sharks" at U. S. C. switch things about and see U. S. C. winning by three points, or 67 to 64.

This, however, is dependent on Cliff Reynolds being in condition to pull down second place in the high hurdles. It will be recalled that the Trojan ace crumpled in the event last Saturday against California, due to a leg injury received some days ago when hit by a flying discus.

SOCIAL LEADERS GO FISHING
LIMERICK, Ireland, March 31.—When the impulse to fish strikes Lady Olein Wyndham-Quinn, she turns to her own little river which flows through her Adare Manor estate and empties into the River Shannon. Adare Manor is in the country known as the last Irish stronghold of James II. Lady Olein, the daughter of Lord and Lady Dunraven, is one of Great Britain's most enthusiastic sportswomen. It was due to her fondness for fishing that parties over the week-end, a feature of society life at the larger country estates in days past, have been revived. Guests come even from London for this sport.

WOMEN STUDY FARMING
DOYLESTOWN, Pa., March 31.—Women, who have invaded the masculine sphere in business, in the professions, and in nearly everything else including farming, will be admitted for the first time to study "dirt farming" at the National Farm school here. Fifty coeds will occupy the executive seats of tractors and other farm implements on the 1200 acres of the school farm.

PARTNERSHIP IN TRACTOR ENDS IN COURT FIGHT

A tandem partnership between two Japanese in the ownership and operation of a tractor with a drag attached, which ended in a row over which owned the front end and which the rear of the co-operative implement, was brought before the courts yesterday when Heisaku Toyoda was scheduled to appear on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

His alleged victim was the Rev. T. S. Ban, minister-farmer, of Garden Grove, who bears a sliced right ear as a memento of his late partnership with Toyoda. The ear was thus decorated by a shovel in the eager hands of Toyoda, the farmer-parson asserts.

Toyoda's case was up for preliminary hearing before Justice K. E. Morrison yesterday, but the defendant was not in court. His friends assured the court elaborately that Toyoda had a very high fever. A physician was of the professional opinion that it was merely a slight cold. But the court gave the defendant benefit of the doubt and continued the hearing to April 6, at 9 a. m.

According to the Rev. Mr. Ban's version of the partnership unpleasantness, which took place March 21, in a field near Talbert, there had been some doubt cast upon the authenticity of Toyoda's title to the implement he had contributed to the partnership; likewise over which implement he had contributed. There were words. Many Japanese words of universal tongue. Not by the minister, of course.

In the end came action, direct and forceful. Too forceful. The minister thought for a moment that his skull had been halved. But yesterday there was only a sliced ear in evidence.

CONFERENCE MEET RECORDS IN DANGER

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—With the disregarding of dual meet marks by Southern Conference officials, it is expected that several records will go by the boards Saturday when the colleges in that loop engage in the annual championship meet at the coliseum here.

Murray Schultz, Caltech sprinter, has been clocked at 9.7 seconds for the century this year, and consequently is depended on to lower the existing conference record of 10 seconds flat.

Hall, Pomona discus artist, has bettered the mark in that event by some five feet, and both Scovel, of Pomona, and Schmidt, of U. C. L. A., imperil the 330-yard run record.

The curtain was raised on Pacific Coast league baseball at Los Angeles, 7 to 1. The veteran "Doc" Wright, back in his sparring. The Indians garnering but five. Johnny Sherlock's home run in the second frame prevented a shutout. About 9000 saw the game.

The Missions nosed out the Oaks, 2 to 1, after an 11-inning battle at Oakland. Sacramento enjoys an undisputed title to the top of the league ladder by virtue of winning its 'second straight game from Hollywood, 7 to 3. Errors by Dittmar contributed to the Seals' downfall at San Francisco when Portland won out, 4 to 2.

BROTHER HELPS BROTHER
EVANSTON, Ill., March 31.—Pat Hanley, brother of Dick Hanley, new Northwestern university football coach, has obtained a leave of absence from Haskell Indian Institute and is aiding his brother in giving Northwestern the fundamentals of the Warner system during spring practice. The brothers played on the Washington state university team together, and Pat was assistant to Dick as coach at Haskell. Pat has now followed Dick to the Wildcat school.

MANUSH FINDS EYE
SAN ANTONIO, March 31.—Heinie Manush, American league hitting champion of last year, knocked in three runs yesterday, and they proved sufficient for Detroit's Tigers to win over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 1.

HUFFMAN BEATS MARULLO
PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—Eddie Huffman, California light heavyweight, won a 10-round decision from Tony Marullo, New Orleans.

"FAMOUS FOR SILKS"

Silk Scarfs

$2.00 to $6.00

Already women are buying silk scarfs, which speaks pretty well for their popularity for this season. Colors are entrancing.

Main Floor

Silk Mixed Materials

Many beautiful patterns in silk and cotton mixed dress materials.

69c to $1.25 yard

Silk Handkerchiefs

50c to $1.00

These silk handkerchiefs have a jolly Springtime freshness about them in their bright colors.

Some of the favorite shades of the season are green, peach, pink, apricot, orchid, to go with the frock.

Main Floor

Silk Ties, 50c to $1.95

Crepe silk ties of splashy coloring remind one of a Summer flower garden at its height. These ties are particularly lovely. Touches of hand painting give them that added beauty.

Main Floor

Silk Brocade Corsets

Elaborately finished silk corsets are not to be overlooked.

$3.50 to $5.00

Second Floor

the Queen of Fabrics

Silk Dresses

$15.00

Taffetas, flat crepes, georgettes, in the pastel shades that are so much wanted for informal and party affairs. You will notice quite a bit of embroidery on these dresses. Some of the dresses turn merrily to two piece. Some straight line effect and the bolero with bow to grace the frock. Silk dresses for the young miss will be found in our dress section.

Second Floor

Silk Coats

$15.00

The greatest season of black and white is with us—and in anticipation of your demands we have gathered this great showing of black satin coats—trimmed with either white or grey fur. These are an exceptional value and were purchased with an eye to the price.

Second Floor

Silk Hosiery, $1.00 to $1.95

About two decades ago nearly all the high grade silk stockings were made in France or England and only the wealthy could afford them.

American manufacture and American ingenuity and American women have brought about an entirely different condition, so that today this country leads in this industry and prices are so moderate that there is little need of anyone being without silk hosiery.

Silk stockings give one the feeling of being well dressed, which is equivalent to raising the standard of living and of happiness.

Silk stockings in black, white and colors of plain weaves. Whatever the color of fashion may be, are displayed at our hosiery counter with the reputation of the house back of all prices and qualities.

Main Floor

Silk Bags at $3.95

These are pretty enough to find their way to any woman's heart—these silk bags. One may choose from several styles in black and white or grey and then the handsome tapestry bags.

Main Floor

Silk Draperies

50c to $1.69 yd.

Beautiful silk rayon fabrics in solid shades, stripes and designs suitable for overhangings. An excellent assortment.

Second Floor

Silk Fabrics, 49c to $4.95 yard

"Every maiden, coy alluring,
Lithe and graceful, fair and gay,
Owes it to her youth and beauty
To be bedecked in silks today"

And not only because they add to her youth and beauty, should a woman wear silk, but because it is real economy. Silk is serviceable and every woman knows it is the most fashionable fabric today. Here are just a few of the new silks—beautiful, glowing, shimmering things, with the promise of many a beautiful frock within their soft folds.

BELDINGS FIGURED CREPE in tones of tan—wash like a handkerchief—ideal for Summer frocks.

PRINTED CREPES in brilliant colorings and quieter monotone effects. FLAT CREPE DE CHINES in light evening shades, bright sport shades and dark shades—the most fashionable silk this Spring. FLOWERED GEORGETTES—As much a part of Spring as birds and May Flowers. SPORTS SILKS AND TAFFETAS—in the loveliest Spring colors. Check Taffetas in bright colors, charming for frocks.

Main Floor

Silk Underwear

$1.95 to $5.95

The woman of today has found that silk underwear is not only the most comfortable kind to wear, but that it is actually economical. It is surprising how long silk undergarments will wear. And they are practically nothing to launder. Our line of silk bloomers, vests, stepins, teddies, pajamas, gowns, French panties and slips come from the best makers in the country.

DEVELOPMENT SECTION

SECTION TWO SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1927 PAGES NINE TO SIXTEEN

IDEAS and Ideals

A. V. NAPIER

Santa Ana has an excellent reputation in the coast country as an attractive residential city. Whenever people discuss the comparative beauty and desirability of towns, Santa Ana invariably comes in for a full measure of praise as a wonderful "home town". Santa Ana does, unquestionably, have a strong appeal as a town in which to have a home. The town's excellent reputation in that respect is fully justified. There are other desirable features, however, to which Santa Ana can make claim with equal justification.

It is doubtful if there is any town in Southern California of the same approximate population that has as many first class business houses. Comparison reveals not a single general retail market in Southern California that will surpass the Grand Central market in Santa Ana. With one or two possible exceptions there are no theaters on the coast with finer buildings or with better furnishings and equipment than the two leading show houses in Santa Ana. There are several mercantile concerns here that will compare favorably with the best stores in many towns larger than Santa Ana. The finest banking institution in Southern California is not any finer than the best in Santa Ana. In the search for good newspapers, cities of double the population of Santa Ana can be included and still no paper found that will compare favorably with the Santa Ana Daily Register. The Santa Ana Register employs more people, pays more wages, prints more and better news, carries cleaner advertisements and serves its field more fully than any other newspaper in Southern California in any town of double Santa Ana's population. Anyone can verify the statement who will take the trouble to look the field over.

The general average in business houses in Santa Ana is high, compared with the averages in other towns. Nearly every good town has one or two outstanding business institutions, but Santa Ana has many. Santa Ana is well balanced. It is well balanced because it is a city being built in its own environment, outside the direct influence of any great city near by. With the possible exception of two or three lines, business is not "over-done" in Santa Ana, but it is keeping abreast of the rest of the sections and there is just as much reason for praising Santa Ana's business district as there is for admiring the fine homes and beautiful yards.

Sawdust and Shavings

Vol. 2 March 31, 1927 No. 13

Published each week in the interests of the people of Santa Ana and vicinity by the Barr Lumber Company.

If there is anything that you think the editor of Sawdust and Shavings ought to know, kindly communicate with the Barr Lumber Co. This thing of being an editor is a heavy responsibility.

W. S. Spicer, assistant manager, was in Sacramento last Friday and Saturday attending the California Mill-work Institute. A moonlight voyage down the Sacramento river on the return trip was a pleasant diversion enjoyed by Walt. (Oh, yes, they have moonshine up in northern California all the time.)

We are always glad to commend any worthy, local enterprise. In this connection, we would like to congratulate Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Mr. Cianfoni, and anyone else responsible for the series of Sunday afternoon symphony concerts now in progress at the Ebell auditorium. These concerts are, indeed, worthwhile.

This is the luxury of music. It touches every key of memory and stirs all the hidden springs of sorrow and of joy. I love it for what makes me forget and for what it makes me remember.

Friends of Wilbur Barr will be glad to know that he is now out of the hospital and fast regaining his strength. He was in Santa Ana for a short visit over the week-end.

To the parents of Santa Ana we would direct this question: Do you know of any investment you could make that would do more good for the little boy or girl than the building of a playhouse in your back yard?

You would be surprised how little it would cost and how much "kick" all concerned would get out of it. Think this over and then come in and talk it over with us.

Mark Twain once said a house and stipulated that it should cost a certain sum. "Did it?" asked a friend. "Well, half of it," replied Mark.

Avoid the brag-gart nor indulge in self praise. Remember, all the forces of nature—heat, light, electricity and gravitation—are silent. We only know they exist by the effects they produce.

Whether you intend to build a home this Spring, this year, or years hence, you cannot begin too soon to plan for it. We have some rather expensive plan books which we will be very glad to loan you if you will call at our office for them.

MAKES PROFIT OF $54,800 IN LAGUNA BEACH TRANSACTIONS

J. N. Isch, Pioneer Citizen, Disposes of Property to Los Angeles Investor

REQUEST BIDS ON NEW POST OFFICE

Rapid Progress Is Made On Big Paving Project; Street Will Be Widened

BY HAL FORREST

One of the big romances of Laguna Beach real estate was revealed yesterday, when announcement was made that J. N. Isch, pioneer merchant of Laguna Beach, had sold 100 feet of Coast boulevard property to G. G. Carter Jr., of Los Angeles, for $50,000, or at the rate of $500 per front foot for the bare land, the Isch store and other small buildings not being included in the deal.

The south 50 feet of the property that can be made by holding to land for a long time. It represents a net profit to Mr. Isch of $24,800 or 12,400 per cent, over a period of a little more than 20 years. The Laguna pioneer paid $200 for the 50 feet. That is at the rate of $4 per front foot. The lot is 80 feet deep and the lot contains 4000 square feet. It was bought by Mr. Isch at the rate of five cents per square foot and sold at the price of $6.25 per square foot.

Cleaves Big Sum

The Isch deal was made by N. Elliot West and Fred A. Leach and is one of the outstanding transactions that have focused the eyes of the real estate world in Laguna Beach for the past two years. Mr. Isch originally owned the south 50 feet, for which he paid $200. About 15 years ago he paid $500 for a lot adjoining the first purchase on the south. That was sold at a profit of $500. A little later, when a small boom hit Laguna Beach and there was talk of a boulevard going through he purchased the north 50 feet of the 100 feet lot and the lot adjoining that on the north, which was not a full 50 feet, but which was considered a fine location. The purchase was made jointly with Oscar Warling and the price was $3500. Mr. Isch later purchased the Warling interest and he owned approximately 150 feet of frontage on the boulevard. The corner lot was sold several years ago to Mrs. A. G. Walters, a realtor, for $8000. Mr. Isch then had a clear profit on his boulevard transaction of $4800 and had 100 feet left which brought him $50,000 this week, or a total profit of $54,800.

Plans Not Definite

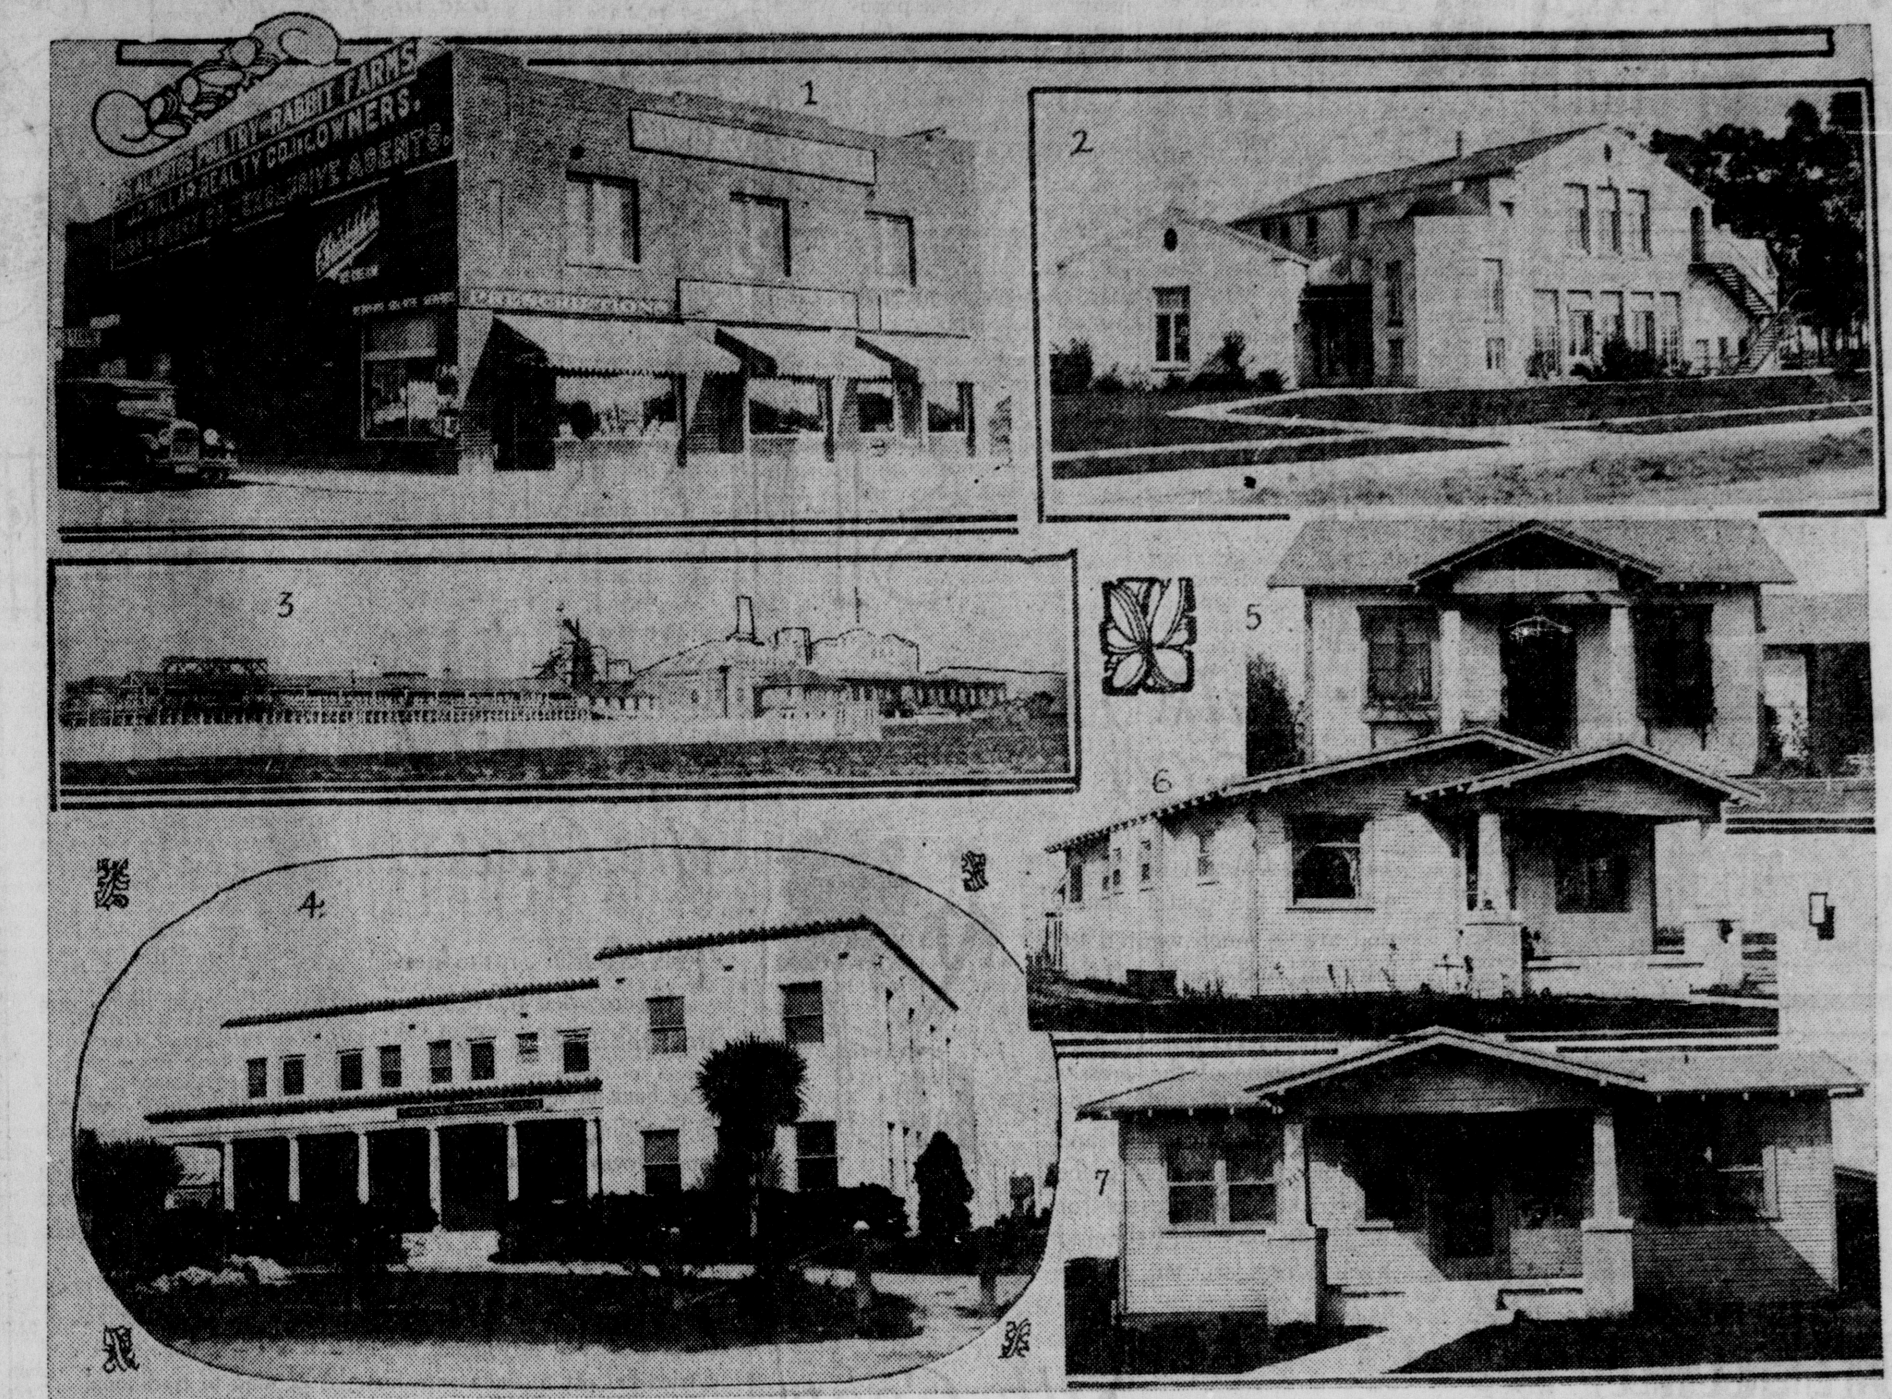

Mr. Carter has not made definite plans for the future. He will lease or build temporary buildings until the town is big enough to warrant the construction of a substantial building.

A further angle of this boulevard property romance is that a little more than a year ago the corner lot which Mr. Isch sold for $8000, was sold by Mrs. Walters for $18,000. An offer of $42,500 for the corner has been refused by the new owner within the past 10 days.

Cafe Reconstructed

An offer of $55,000 was made recently for the 100 feet adjoining the Isch property on the south and running to the corner of Laguna avenue. Just across Laguna avenue is the Laguna Beach hotel property which was sold to W. I. Hollingsworth and company, Los Angeles, for $84,000. Directly across from the Isch property is the White House cafe, frontage of 104 feet, that sold recently for $85,000, including two buildings and equipment. This property now is undergoing reconstruction at an outlay of $15,000, making a total investment for R. A. Bird of San Juan Capistrano of $100,000. Mr. Bird made a fortune in the cafe business in the mission city. When it was assured that the coast highway would go through Laguna Beach and that the road would be paved through town and that water and gas were assured in addition to the

REALTY EXAMS TO TIGHTEN--BARNSON

That Real Estate Commissioner Barnson is planning an active administration and a rigid enforcement of the California Real Estate act, is indicated in an interview given Glenn D. Williams, secretary of the California Real Estate association.

"The enforcement of the provisions of the California Real Estate act is my job and I mean to do that with fervor," Barnson said. "Hereafter, brokers employing salesmen and certifying, as they are required to do under section 9 of the act, to the honesty and trustworthiness of the applicant will be checked upon that certification. Should charges later prove the salesman unworthy of trust, such certification by the broker may jeopardize his own license."

"My pride shall not be in the number of licenses issued, but in the quality of brokers permitted to guide the investments of the public. Therefore, the examinations for entrance will tighten to some extent, and only those who are successful in meeting these requirements will be permitted to apply for broker's license."

HOMES FOR 5935 FAMILIES ERECTED HERE IN 7 YEARS

Housing accommodations for 5935 families have been erected in Santa Ana in the past seven years, it was revealed today by W. S. Decker, building inspector, following completion of building records for the period.

In that period there have been built here 113 duplex houses, three three-family apartments and 41 four-family flats, and other flats and courts with a permit valuation of $1,390,722, the recapitulation shows.

The inspector discloses that 65 1/2 per cent of the total building in Santa Ana in 23 years has been done in the five years and 11 months, starting with May, 1921, the valuations for that period being $18,785,594, as compared with a grand total of $25,619,252 for 23 years and six months. Maintenance of building records was started May 23, 1903, Decker pointed out.

The total number of residence permits issued since September 23, 1903, is 5392, with a permit valuation of $13,674,910.

COUNTY BUILDERS NOMINATE TUESDAY

Nomination of officers will take place at the monthly dinner meeting of the Orange County Builders' exchange at the El Torro hotel, Anaheim, next Tuesday evening, it was announced today by Gene Douglas, manager. The election will take place May 3.

William Lichty, district manager for a roofing company, will be the chief speaker at the meeting. He is scheduled to talk on roofing conditions in California as compared with conditions in the east. The new by-laws and constitution of the exchange will be adopted at the session, which will commence at 7 o'clock.

BUILDERS' QUERIES ANSWERED

By Southern California Chapter, Associated General Contractors of America

Q. How may orange shellac be removed from hardwood pine floors? What refinishing would you suggest for a floor of this type?

A. Orange shellac may be removed from hardwood floors by using wood alcohol. Care must be taken to apply the alcohol to only a narrow strip of floor space at one time, because alcohol evaporates quickly and it will cause the shellac to gum. When applying the alcohol follow the grain of the flooring from one end of the room to the other. It is advisable to use steel wool when applying the alcohol, using old rags to wipe off the floor. The most popular way to refinish a hardwood floor after it has been thoroughly sanded, is to give it two coats of white shellac and one coat of wax. If a darker shade is desired it is advisable to stain the floor before the shellac or varnish is applied. Several leading floor contractors advise never to use a colored shellac or varnish on a floor because its actions are similar to painted linoleum, that is, it shows a different color when the surface becomes worn.

Q. How long will it take to pay off a note for $2850, payable $60 each month including interest at eight-and-four-tenths per cent interest, and how much will be paid in interest?

A. The time required is four years, eight months and 21 days, and the interest will total $866.

Q. During hard rains the water comes in around the window frames. What is the cause?

A. The cause is improper flashing and to alter the condition it will be necessary to remove the exterior stucco or plaster from around the window frames, and have new flashing installed. When you have this work done be sure to secure the services of an expert, even though it may cost a little more.

Q. What is the estimated cost per square foot for erecting a one-story frame bungalow?

A. There is quite a large variation in the costs of erecting a building of this type. It may cost from $2.75 to $5.00 per square foot, or perhaps a little more, but the very cheapest at which such a dwelling should be built is $2.75 per square foot.

S. A. Contractor Starts Work On Newport Garage

Thermon Means, Santa Ana contractor, started work today on a $15,000 brick garage building on Central avenue, Newport Beach, for Lew H. Wallace. The garage will be occupied by Theodore Robins, automobile dealer, who is at present located in Balboa.

Means was awarded the contract on the building early this week. He has a large crew of men at work. The building is opposite Twenty-second street, and is near the Ben Cope boat works.

The garage will be the finest in the harbor district when completed, according to reports. It will have a large shop, storage room, stock rooms and display space for new machines. It is expected that it will be completed before May 1. Robins is understood to have secured a long lease on the building.

Only one perpetual pension is now being paid by the British government. This is the annual sum of $25,000 to the holder of the Nelson earldom.

POPULATION OF TOWN DOUBLES

Railroads Are Reported Interested in Section; Furniture Plant Opened

The installation of public improvements costing more than $100,000 and the opening of a new industrial district west of the main section of town are two important steps to take place in the development program of Los Alamitos during the next few months, it was announced today.

Plans are being made in the western Orange county city for paving several miles of streets and for installing sidewalks and curbs. The improvements will be cared for by a bond issue in an improvement district, according to reports. Railroad companies are said to be negotiating for land in a new industrial district which is to be opened on one of the large estates west of Los Alamitos, according to information here today. The Southern Pacific railroad already has a line connecting Los Alamitos directly with Los Angeles harbor.

Los Alamitos has shown a remarkable growth during the past year. A 100 per cent increase has been registered in population and nearly 50 new homes have been constructed in the town during the past year. The nearness of Los Alamitos to the oil fields of Long Beach, Seal Beach, Huntington Beach and other cities make it an ideal residential city for the working man and many new homes have resulted from this fact.

A new chamber of commerce has been formed which has appointed a planning committee to consider the future development of the city. Several other civic organizations have been formed.

Improvements in Los Alamitos during the past year include a fine brick business block on the subdivision recently opened south of the old town of Los Alamitos. The structure houses several stores and is used as chamber of commerce headquarters. A garage, grocery store, drug store, barber shop and a feed store are other new businesses which have located in the town during the past few months.

More than 90 new homes have been constructed on the new subdivision south of town during the past two years, according to Rush P. Green, sales manager for the tract. More than 50 of the homes have been constructed during the past year and 15 new houses are now under construction on the tract. The average cost of homes in Los Alamitos is $4500, according to Green.

Population of the town has jumped from 750 to 1500 persons during the past year. Industrial activities in the town are a distinct advantage to the community. The Los Alamitos sugar factory is one of the largest and finest sugar plants in Southern California and with the increased planting of

KOLB AND DILL SHOW WITHOUT CHORUS BARRED

Actors are not necessarily improvident; theater managers not necessarily mercenary and amateur sponsors not gullible.

These three reversals of theory came to light here today when dispatches disclosed the fact that the engagement of Kolb and Dill, noted stage team, in "Queen High," which was to have christened Alameda as a road show town last night, was summarily cancelled by W. A. Rusco, Alameda impresario.

Santa Ana theatergoers will recall that the two comedians and a large chorus appeared in this same production at a local playhouse several weeks ago.

The cancellation was the result of some sleuthing on the part of the Alameda Elks, who were sponsoring the engagement in compliment to Max Dill, who is a member of the organization and a property holder in Alameda, and who was to have made his debut in his adopted home at the Alameda high school auditorium.

Chorus Eliminated
The Elks discovered that Kolb and Dill had eliminated the chorus which was one of the component parts of the musical comedy,
"Queen High," and purposed playing Alameda and the few remaining cities on the coast tour automatic, so to speak. They consulted Rusco, who promptly cancelled the engagement and started to return the ticket money.

Rusco decided that a musical comedy without a chorus was as fashionable as a suit of clothes without a vest. He notified Kolb and Dill at Monterey by telegram that they would not play Alameda, and started returning some $2000 in ticket money at his offices in Oakland and Alameda.

"I would rather lose the money
I have already invested than be a party to a shady theatrical deal," Rusco said. "Queen High" without a chorus would not have been worth the money we were asking for seats. Its all right for Kolb and Dill to get economical, but I have a reputation, and I am in business in Alameda year in and year out.

Girls Left in L. A.

"The facts of the case are simply these: Kolb and Dill hired their chorus girls in Los Angeles, which meant that wherever the show closed they would have to pay the girls' fare back to Los Angeles.
Right now they are on the last leg of their tour, so when they passed through Los Angeles on their way north they decided to save expenses by firing the girls.

According to Rusco, the show has already played several towns between Los Angeles and Oakland —Santa Maria, Watsonville and Monterey—with the chorus-less company. They are scheduled to play Stockton tonight, with Reno and adjoining territory to follow.
In each of these cities, he said, the show had been purchased outright by the management.

"I paid the price Kolb and Dill set for their entertainment," Rusco continued, "and I naturally expected to get the same show that was given in Los Angeles and San Francisco. Just because Alameda is new to this road show business is no indication that its people are a lot of rubes who don't know musical comedy from plain farce."

Seriously Hurt
In 4-Foot Fall

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—
Charles Toy, 55, San Bernardino plasterer, is in critical condition in the Golden State hospital here today, following a fall of four feet from a retaining wall yesterday.

The injured man, after receiving emergency treatment, was found to be suffering from concussion of the brain, with symptoms of a fractured skull.

Reports from the hospital state that since the accident Toy has been rational for but brief periods of time. Grave fears are expressed for his recovery.

Jack Daugherty and Blanche

Runaway Express," picture now playing at the West Coast-Walker.

YOST THEATER

That the picture of the Eucharistic Congress, which shows at the Yost theater tomorrow, is a new form of motion picture expression is the belief of Ray L. Hall, assigned by Fox Film corporation to make the film record of the Chicago gathering, which was presented to Cardinal Mundelein by William Fox and Winfield R. Sheehan.

"The picture," says Hall, "is a great drama of reality. It is perhaps the first deliberate attempt to portray a great historic event, recording not only the events as they occurred but also the spirit of the occurrence, the personalities of those who participated and the settings in which it transpired, and the emotional reaction of great throngs of people stirred by the deepest and most instinctive spiritual hunger of mankind."

WEST COAST-WALKER

A visit to the West Coast-Walker tonight, will amply repay movie fans in search of thrills, romance and humor. The feature attraction is "The Runaway Express."

The story of "The Runaway Express" was adapted from Frank Spearman's famous book, "The Nerve of Policy," and it adheres faithfully to its original source.
This in itself is quite a feat in these days of the rearing apart of stories and presenting them on the screen entirely foreign to the intentions of the author.

Jack Daugherty plays his first featured dramatic role in this picture and he does his work well.
His experience in dozens of chapterplays stand him in good stead for the thrilling stunts he undergoes and his broad, Irish grin and striking figure combine to make his personality a most outstanding one.

The heroine is played by pretty Blanche Mehaffey, remembered for her work in "His People." She is a lovely foil to Daugherty and the two go through their scenes with a snap and precision that denotes the real artists.

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

Supposed spirit voices, doors opening and closing of their own accord, a vase that breaks the same way, a hand that comes right out of the wall, a book that opens and a leaf that tears itself out of the book, with no one near it, men strangled to death by invisible hands—all these and many more happen before your very eyes in the great mystery play, "Spooks," playing all this week at Murphy's Orana theater.

To say that "Spooks" is a success would be putting it mildly, for the spectators fairly scream at some of the weird happenings and simply roar with laughter at the comedy which is furnished chiefly by Herbert M. Shelley in his characterization of a colored servant.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

One of the screen's great gifts to the public is the history lessons contained in such pictures as "The Overland Stage," the Ken Maynard film which closes tonight at the Yost theater.

This impressive production shows one of the really great events in the conquest of America; the linking of the stagecoach lines from East to West.

Although this picture is the first to deal in any large way with the epic of the transcontinental stagecoach, the picture which deals romantically with historical events is frequently seen, and when well done, is always among the most popular screen offerings.

"The Overland Stage," which is destined to give great impetus to this method of teaching history of the early west is from an original story by Marion Jackson and is interpreted by a brilliant cast including Kathleen Collins, Tom Santschel, Sheldon Lewis, Dot Farley, Florence Turner and Jay Hunt.

ONE IS KILLED IN EXPLOSION AT LA HABRA

Thomas H. Swope, 27, of 1140 East Third street, Long Beach was instantly killed and A. J. Jackson, 40, of the Ambassador Hotel, Wilmington was seriously injured, when a gas pipe line of the California Petroleum company exploded at Yorba Linda late yesterday afternoon. The two men were reported to have been blown nearly 100 feet into the air. Swope's body was picked up more than 50 feet from the scene of the explosion.

The two men were welding a gas line, according to reports. Water was turned in the pipe to test it and it is believed that the water forced some gas remaining in the pipe to the point where the pipe was being welded. Other workmen near the pipe were uninjured.

Neither of the men was married.
Jackson was rushed to the Johnson-Wickett clinic at Anaheim in an unconscious condition. His condition was reported improved today, by physicians. Jackson received severe burns about the face and legs, severe lacerations about the chest, and body and possible internal injuries. Swope was dead when brought to the hospital. His body was taken to the Backs-Terry and Campbell funeral home in Anaheim. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

GERMAN CLASS AT JR. COLLEGE HOLDS DEBATE

A "Ja and night" debate on the utility of the horse over the automobile was given by the students of the Santa Ana junior college German class before the Orange county language teachers at Tustin yesterday afternoon in the high school auditorium.

The entire debate was given in German even to the rebuttal speeches.

Miss Flora Greenow and Lawrence Minge, arguing that the horse was more useful than the automobile won the debate by a 2 to 1 decision. They even cited proofs from the Bible of the advantages of mule travel. In their arguments they said that the horse was dependable although slower than the automobile and the safety of pedestrians would be better insured if Dobbin had not been replaced by the automobile.

The negative side of the debate was taken by Miss Theodora Miller and Paul Alberts.

Miss Helen Scheneberg, an officer in the German club, presided.
The debate was judged by three of the language teachers. In all the speaking, both the English words were spoken. There were "Thanks for the buggy ride" with which Alberts closed his rebuttal speech.

BUENA PARK IS ADMITTED TO SEWER SYSTEM

The big "family" of Orange county cities and sanitary districts co-operation in the operation of the joint outfall sewer was enlarged when representatives of the communities met here in joint session last night and admitted Buena Park to the circle and granted oil companies of Brea rental privileges of the system.

The Buena Park sanitary district made formal application for admission and the request was granted without debate, admission being on the basis of ownership of a small percentage of the system.

Oil companies in the Brea district have been developing plans for disposal of waste waters on the various leases in that district, and plans evolved by the companies were presented at the meeting by a representative of the Union Oil company.

The permit was on condition that all injurious substances in the water be filtered out and that only clear water be turned into the system.

To Remove Oil From Water
The companies, it was stated, propose accumulating the waste water in settling basins for removal of rotary mud and oil. It is proposed to construct a line from the oil fields and connect with the Fullerton line at a point on Orangeflake avenue. The oil interests do not acquire a permanent interest in the system, but will have the privilege of using it until such time as the full capacity of the sewer lines is required by the co-operating communities.

A communication read at the joint meeting revealed that the U.
S. Industrial Alcohol company has acquired the property of the Crystalline Chemical company at Anaheim.
permission to use the sewer line.
The new organization asked for in disposal of its waste waters, and the request was granted on condition that chemicals injurious to the pipe be eliminated. Decision on this point is left to E. R.
Goudy, sanitary engineer for the state board of health.

Authorize Repair Work
The Santa Ana city council, contracting council for the group, was authorized to enter into a contract with the Butte Electric company for repair work on the joint outfall. The contract is to be awarded on the basis of the company's bid to do the work for $10,050. The company is now engaged in extending the main outfall line 2200 feet into the ocean.

Clyde Ellis was given a seven-year lease on the joint sewer main on his bid of $300 for the first year and $400 a year for the remainder of the lease period.

S. & S.

Wonderful Hair Tonic

I have a wonderful remedy for white hair and dandruff, a tonic sold for over 40 years in the East. It is absolutely not a dye. In four or five weeks S. & S. will restore your hair to its natural color. This tonic is now sold in Santa Ana, Calif. at the drug store of C. S. Kelley. It is this wholesome recovery of the original colors of your hair that makes S. & S. so valuable to you. So don't fail to get a large 17-ounce bottle of this tonic, and soon your hair will return to its natural color. The color that nature gave to you. S. & S. is made in one formula only. If you are just beginning to turn gray use S. & S. and you will not become gray. Don't confuse S. & S. Tonic with objectionable dyes. It is absolutely not a dye. It gives your hair youth's luster and gloss. Just as clean to use as pure rain water. It will not soil anything.

Testimonials

Dear Sir: Please leave another bottle of your S. & S. Hair Tonic at my office the first time in Paris. I wish to say that Mrs. Wallingford has used a bottle of your tonic on her hair, also that of daughter and baby. The baby is three years old. They all were troubled with dandruff and Mrs. Wallingford's hair was turning gray as well. The dandruff has been entirely relieved for all of them and her hair has regained its original color.

Yours truly,

DR. J. S. WALLINGFORD,

Paris, Ky.

Dear Sir: Please send me one bottle of your S. & S. Hair Tonic. I have used one bottle and my wife's hair and my own are fully restored to its natural color. We used the same bottle and her hair was restored to its natural color, a light brown, and mine to its color, a dark brown. There is no doubt in my mind that this tonic will do all you claim for it. I can recommend it to any one.

Yours truly,

DR. THEO. SALLIE,

414 Russell Street, Covington, Ky.

I have used S. & S. Hair Tonic and am glad to state that it will restore the hair to its natural color and rid the scalp of all dandruff. I consider it the best hair tonic that has ever placed on the market.

D. B. KNOX, M. D.,

Georgetown, Ky.

Dear Sir: Enclosed find check for a $1.50 bottle of your S. & S. Hair Tonic. Your tonic has done all you claim for it in my home. Hoping some tonic by return mail, I am,

Yours truly,

DR. JOHN S. KAMPER,

Mr. T. Porter Smith, Georgetown, Kentucky. Dear Sir: Herewith my check for two dollars for a bottle of your S. & S. Hair Tonic. This tonic recommended to Mrs. Phillips by the John Shilto Beauty Parlor in Cincinnati, Ohio. Yours truly,

A. L. PHILLIPS.

I am forty-four years old. Since I was thirty my hair has been gradually getting gray, until on the temples and around the edges it was white. After a month's use it was restored to its original color. Before using the tonic I was troubled with dandruff. Since I have no dandruff.

Very truly yours,

L. G. WESLEY,

Superintendent of Schools, Nicholasville, Ky.

Dear Sir: Am having splendid success with the S. & S. Tonic. Enclosed find check which I think is correct. Please rush me another order by express.

electricity and sewer system already installed, he decided that Laguna Beach would be the center of the greatest coast activity of recent years.

Simmons Leases Cafe

W. C. Simmons, proprietor of the Arch Beach tavern, has leased the former Mills cafe from Howard G. Heisler. This is situated at the southeast corner of the boulevard and Laguna avenue, just a block from the White House. Mr. Simmons has made many changes.

To the south of the Simmons cafe the Southern Counties Gas company will erect an ornamental building for an office. The lot is 25 feet by 108 feet. H. B. Van Altmann and Miss May Hattwell will have their art and curio shops removed to property between the Simmons place and the gas company building. G. R. and Alice E. Parker, who own the Tea and Tiffin property, have had plans drawn for extensive improvements to the north 50 feet of their 100 foot strip. The nature of the building has not been announced.

The Coast boulevard will be 30 feet wide and this necessitated the cutting down of the embankments on either side leading up the hill from Laguna avenue to Beach street. The appearance of a deep cut has disappeared. This block is rapidly being turned into business property. Frank S. Browne, J. N. Isch and George S. Johnston own land to the south of the gas company's holdings that is potential business property.

Will Improve Street

The formation of the Forest avenue improvement association this week, in which organization more than 75 per cent of the frontage is represented, assures the widening and reconstruction of this important gateway to Laguna Beach. Forest avenue being a continuation of the Laguna Canyon road, a county highway, from Third street to Coast boulevard. At present it is the only paved street in Laguna Beach. Being a 60-foot street, it forced parallel parking on one side. It will be widened 10 feet to permit of 45 degree parking on each side and two lines of traffic. Five feet will be added on each side and the buildings will be put back a like distance. Steps are being taken to reconstruct the street from an architectural standpoint so as to make it stand out in an artistic as well as useful way. The street will be properly drained to prevent the standing of mud and water that hampered the merchants this winter.

New Building Open Soon

The new Peacock building on Forest avenue, modern in every respect, will be opened next week. It will house the Safeway store and the South Coast Engineering and Construction company's offices and plumbing department.

Arch Beach is having a little activity all its own. That section of the Coast boulevard in the vicinity of Pearl street is again showing life. Mrs. Nettie Holcombe Pritchard of Pasadena has purchased a lot next to the corner of Pearl street and will put up a combination apartment and stores building. Mrs. Pritchard made a fortune in real estate deals in Hollywood and intends to center her activities in the near future in this section of the south coast. Mrs. Pritchard has purchased three lots on a point at Coast Royal, near the estate of E. L. Crawford of Santa Ana, and will build her home there.

Mrs. Lillian Prest Ferguson, noted Laguna Beach artist, is building a new studio on the front of Coast boulevard property near Pearl street. Thomas Hunt, also a noted Southland artist, is building a studio home on Coast boulevard nearly opposite the home of Miss Kate Overton and near the studio of William Wendt, most famous of the Laguna Beach painters.

Mrs. Florence Townsend is completing a new home in Arch Beach just off the Coast boulevard. Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Ferris, who own a fine home on Coast boulevard near Aster street, have purchased a fine piece of property on Center street, Arch Beach, facing a beautiful ravine. J. Wiley Rouse, who formerly owned the new Pritchard property, was the seller.

Auto Dealer Builds Home

R. D. Lippincott of the Lippincott Motor company, has let a contract to Fred Wilkin for a beautiful Spanish type house in the exclusive Virginia Park section of Temple Hills. It will be a stucco cottage of six rooms and bath, including three bedrooms, a very large living room, a kitchen and a large dining room. The living room will be stepped down from the rest of the house to conform with the contour of the knoll upon which the house will command an unobstructed view of the ocean, hills and a beautiful canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiel G. Rider, whose home on the cliffs is one of the real show places of the south coast, are building two beautiful homes in Arch Beach. One house is of Norman type and the other is of the Riviera.

The government has posted formal notices asking for bids on a new post office building for Laguna Beach and it is said that at least four will be submitted. The post-office will require 1400 feet of floor space.

Paving Job Speeded

Speed is being made on the paving contract through Laguna Beach. Forms are being made for the laying of the concrete on the stretch from Myrtle street to Aster. There the pavement will be 72 feet wide. The retaining wall in Sleepy Hollow was finished last week and the fill grading is nearly ready for the grading machines. Superintendent Heath of the United Concrete Pipe and Construction company says that he expects to have the work finished early in June. The reconstruction of Forest avenue will be started by September 15. The water board and the gas company are still laying mains and Chicken and rabbit farms are popular in Los Alamitos. According to the owners of the various farms the industries are proving profitable. Charles Wachter, owner of the Los Alamitos Fur farm, has recorded a 100 per cent increase in business during the past year.

Developments in poultry raising have been greatly improved during the past year due to the location of J. P. Fleming, poultry expert of Bellflower, in the town.

Los Alamitos boasts one of the finest schools in Orange county. Modern churches and one of the finest clubhouses in the county are located in the town.

CANTANDO CLUB PLANS CONCERT LAST OF MAY

With an enrollment of 51 members, the men's chorus recently organized here with Leon Eckles as director, today had developed strength indicating that it will soon become a contender for honors in the music world of Southern California held by the Ellis club of Los Angeles.

"The Cantando Club of Santa Ana" is the name selected by the group at its last meeting, and plans were discussed for the first formal concert by the organization. The concert will be given probably during the last week in May, with a program of eight or ten numbers by the chorus and selections by a soprano soloist. The club has entered the Southern California Elisteddof and will compete at the meeting to be held in Fullerton April 7. The chorus will sing "To Arms" (Mauder) and "Three Fishers" (Goldbeck) in "a capella" form and from memory.

Weekly rehearsals are progressing in a most satisfactory manner and the Cantando club is confident it is going to fill a popular need in the community. "The style of its work and its quality will furnish something in the way of music which our city never before has been able to enjoy, except at very rare intervals, the appearance here of the Ellis club of Los Angeles seven years ago. There is something about the music produced by a chorus of half a hundred men, with good voices and under capable direction, which strikes the public ear with entire approval."

Officers of the club are Leon Eckles, director; Miss Ruth Armstrong accompanist; A. G. Tucker (chairman), A. H. T. Taylor (vice chairman), J. A. Miller, L. B. Babbitt and J. A. Garraway, directors; Frank Lansdown, secretary-treasurer.

Committees have been appointed as follows:

Voice and membership, A. J. Garraway, Leon Eckles, James Nuckolls and Fred Wilde; finance, Lloyd Babbitt, Bruce Monroe and McKee Fiske; house, A. G. Tucker, Dr. E. H. Rowland, Chas. E. Walker and James Hughes; social, J. A. Miller, Lyle Anderson, Elmer Heidt and O. W. Householder; program and music, Leon Eckles and the board of directors; publicity, A. H. T. Taylor and W. K. Hillyard; librarian, Jack Lloyd.

Hear Rev. Charles E. McKinley speak and Miss Ola Blair sing at the First Congregational church Thursday night.

Women Undertake Educational Work

ORLANDO Fla., March 31.—Ignorance is not bliss and will be eradicated in the United States if the efforts of the General Federation of Women's clubs to stamp out illiteracy before the next census is taken in 1930 are successful. There are five million illiterate persons in the country, and Mrs. William F. Blackman of Orlando, is chairman of the federation's committee to teach these unlettered Americans to read and write.

Mrs. Blackman plans to enroll the backward men and women of one county in an educational course and gradually extend the work to cover the whole state.

BURON FITTS WILL ATTEND BIG JAMBOREE

A public dinner, with Lieut. Gov. Buron Fitts as honor guest, has been arranged by the culinary committee of the Santa Ana Legion Auxiliary, working in co-operation with the "distinguished guests" committee of the "Forty et eight" fun order and honor society of the American Legion, for the evening of the second annual Boy Scout Jamboree, to be held at the county fairgrounds, on Friday, April 23.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Rowena Fitts, whose success in managing Legion and Auxiliary dinners and banquets inspired the Fitts dinner idea, according to leading legionnaires of the county. A nominal charge will be made for the banquet which will be open to the public, and the net proceeds will be turned over to the Jamboree committee, according to Mrs. Fitts.

Other plans for the reception and entertainment of Fitts, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Fitts, are in the hands of a county-wide committee under District Attorney Z. B. West, first Chief de Gare of the Orange County "Forty et Eight" Roland Dye, Scout executive, outlined to the Jamboree committee at a recent meeting, the ceremonies of the big scout fete, when Orange county boys will present a spectacular demonstration before the grandstand.

All organizations in the county are expected to take part in the big Scout benefit, the proceeds from which will be used to purchase a truck for Scout use. At next Monday's committee meeting, which has been called by Chairman Ted Craig for 7:30 p. m., at the fairgrounds pavilion, more delegates will be welcomed, and final action on several matters is expected to be taken.

Come On In—the mileage is fine!

If you're tired of being kidded about low-cost tire mileage, and really want to get it, let us fix you up now with a set of new Goodyears.

Quality considered Goodyears are the lowest-cost equipment you can buy, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that no one gets a better tire or a better price than you do.

No "special deals," no "extra discounts," no "long trade" line of taffy here—just a mighty good tire at as low a price as we can afford to sell it.

You'll save a lot—we'll make a little—and all of us will be happy.

And now that thoughts are turning to the open road, the mountains, the old swimming hole, etc.—come on in, the mileage is fine.

CITY COUNCIL DECIDES UPON GAS FOR POWER

The city council last night definitely settled the controversy over the use of gas or electric power for its new well on North Bristol street when it awarded the Western Machinery company a contract for installation of two gas engines in the plant. The bid was $14,700, installed.

The initial payment is to be $4000 and the balance of the debt is to be paid monthly on the basis of the saving as between gas and electricity, the estimated savings, ranging from $300 to $500 a month, depending on the period of daily operation of the equipment.

The Southern California Edison company submitted a proposal in which it offered to install two electric motors without initial cost and accept payment on the monthly plan, the payments to be made on the basis of savings that could be effected by metering power supplied for the ornamental lighting systems and for power. It was estimated by the company that the saving would approximate $300 a month.

The council had a long siege in opening bids for various types of work and for supplying the city with materials.

The city garage brought out the largest number of bidders, 13 contractors bidding on the general contract and five on the plumbing work. William Rohrbacker was given the general contract, his bid for the construction being $18,291, the offer including a nine-foot ornamental wall on the Parton and Walnut street sides of the city property. Hickman brothers were given the plumbing contract, their bid being $1489.

Bids received for supplying the city with deep well and booster pumps for the Bristol street plant were referred to the water superintendent and city engineer for investigation. The committee will report recommendations to the council at its meeting Monday night.

Grand Canyon to Be Spanned With $230,000 Bridge

SALT LAKE CITY, March 31.—A bridge spanning the Grand Canyon, linking Arizona and Utah and providing a continuous highway from Canada to Mexico will be constructed as the result of an appropriation of $230,000.

The proposed bridge will be 600 feet long and will tower 400 feet above the swirling waters of the Colorado river.

When the project is completed Salt Lake City will be but a few days fast automobile from Phoenix. Thousands of tourists, hitherto annually turned back by the Grand Canyon at El Tovar will be enabled to continue northward.

The new thoroughfare will furnish a better outlet to the yellow pine timber from the Kaibab national forest. The government is principally interested in the project because it believes that the development will materially increase the number of tourists to Grand Canyon national park.

Our Neighbors

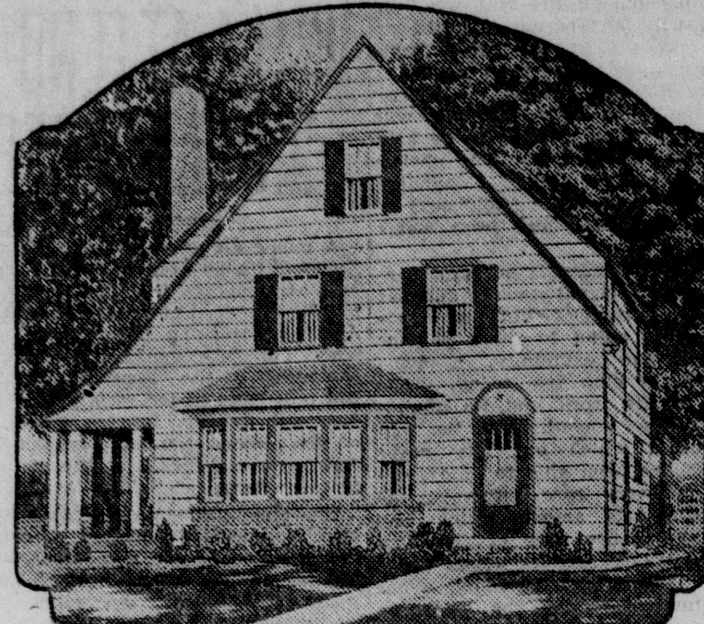

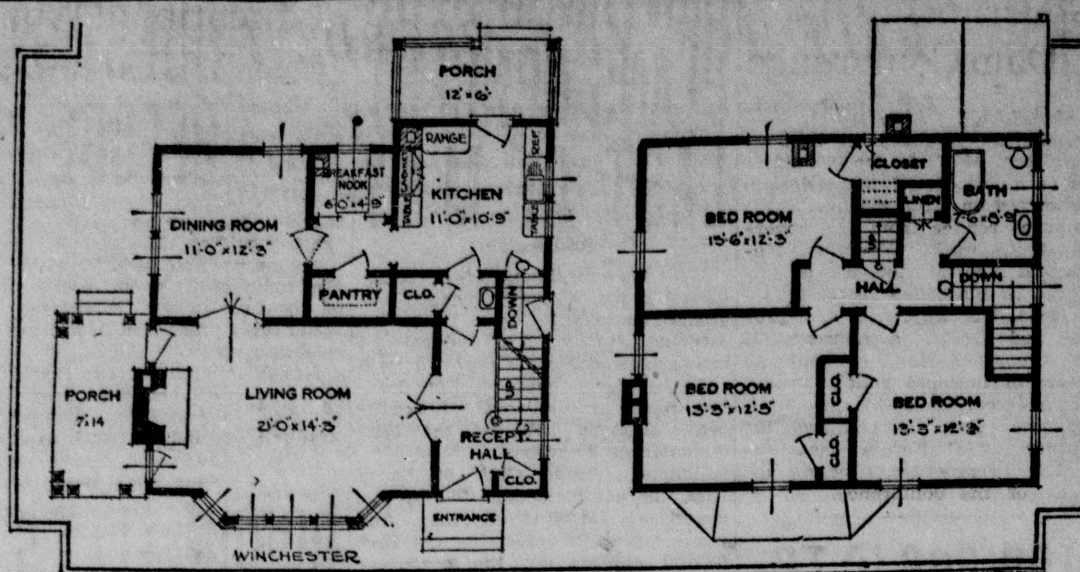

SAN DIEGO.—San Diego county residents and visitors were assured for all time to come free access to the beaches of the county when the board of supervisors adopted by unanimous vote an ordinance regulating the subdivision of ocean front property. Expected opposition on the part of large owners of ocean front property failed to materialize when it appeared that the proponents of the ordinance did not desire to do injustice to anyone. The ordinance as adopted was recommended by a committee representing both the "save the beaches" movement and the property owners.

RESEDA.—The continued soft spring rains are proving highly beneficial to the large fields of spring lettuce growing in this vicinity, at Van Nuys and Owensmouth, in San Fernando valley, it is stated by growers who have made a survey of the crops within the last two days. Most of the lettuce has been cultivated two or three times and is fast reaching a stage of maturity. Lettuce in this section is rapidly heading up and the bulk of the crop will be ready for shipment within 30 days, it is said. Present conditions of moisture and the climatic state of the weather is much better than this period last year. Growers already are beginning to foresee an ideal marketing and shipping season.

SAN BERNARDINO.—Six 3,000-000 candle-power beacon lights and three intermediate landing fields will be constructed in San Bernardino county as a part of the government's new system to facilitate night flying by United States air mail planes between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles. All plans for the project are complete and work will start within 10 days. Thousands of dollars will be expended by the government and the Southern Sierras Power company in the program, which will be finished in three months.

LONG BEACH.—The March building record in Long Beach passed the million-and-a-half-dollar mark this week with the issuance of 17 permits for work to cost $511,827, bringing the year's total to date to $2,487,850. Included in the permits were five oil derricks to cost $34,100, and four residences to cost $13,200. The remainder of the jobs were of miscellaneous character.

MISSOURI PASTOR WILL PREACH HERE

The Rev. A. M. Bower, of Kansas City, Mo., will preach at the week-end series of revival meetings to be held in the Church of the Nazarene, corner of Fifth and Parton streets, beginning April 1 and concluding Sunday evening, April 3.

On Sunday there will be three services, 10:45 a. m., 2:30 p. m., and 7:30 p. m. According to the Rev. E. M. Hutchens, pastor of the Santa Ana Nazarene church, the Rev. Mr. Bower has successfully served as pastor of several of the largest churches of that denomination in the country. His last pastorate was in Kansas City, Mo.

Soup and Rolls Served In Church

BERLIN, March 31.—Berlin has a unique institution in the so-called "Schrippenkirche."

"Schrippe" is a Berlin term for rolls. In the "church of the rolls," which is located on Acker street, in the poorest section of the German metropolis, the outcasts of society are sure to be greeted not only with a sermon but also with a pot of soup and two rolls.

Every Sunday morning at 8 o'clock the church doors are thrown open and in walk all those who have had to spend the night on benches or in the railway station because they are homeless and destitute. Instead of church benches there are two long rows of tables, at which these unfortunates are fed as the pastor delivers his sermon.

NO HATRED FOR SLAYER

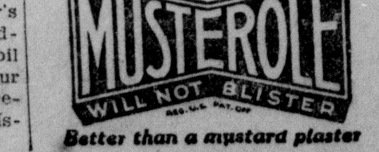

NEW YORK, March 31.—Mrs. Anna Miller regards Walter B. Mayer, who is on trial as the slayer of her daughter, Shirley, as "a gentleman in every respect." She kissed him in court after testifying as a character witness and saying she would have welcomed him as a son-in-law. Mayer, accused of murder in the first degree, testified that the girl rejected him because he was "too slow," that he displayed a pistol to provide excitement enough for her and that it was accidentally discharged in a scuffle.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, constipation, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

A very popular model of English design is this house, "The Winchester." A glance at the floor plan is all that is necessary to substantiate the designers' claim that it embodies every desirable and attractive feature possible for a home of only 30 by 36 feet in dimensions.

The cost is estimated at $7500, although there are instances of "The Winchester" selling as high as $10,000. Due to standardized construction, it is to be expected that a saving perhaps as high as 10 per cent can be realized on the estimated building price.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, March 31.—On Friday evening the clubhouse will be the scene of a ray dinner party for all civic club members and their families and the members of the Lions' club and their wives. Every club member is to bring an earned dollar and turn it into the fund for the new tables for the club house.

Members of the Woman's Civic club will meet Friday afternoon. Nomination of officers will be the main order of business.

CANCEL CHARGE FOR HANDLING CITRUS IN N. Y.

Welcome news to California orange growers is the announcement of eastern railroads of cancellation, effective May 2, 1927, of the three cents per hundred terminal charge in the metropolitan New York district.

The information comes from C. O. Cornwell, traffic manager of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, who has led the three years' negotiations with the carriers as chairman of the traffic committee of the California Citrus league.

This cancellation means a savings of $10.33 per carload or about $25,000 per year on California oranges, over $55,000 of which goes to exchange shippers, according to Traffic Manager Cornwell.

The terminal charge on oranges, which California traffic officials felt was an unfair discrimination against this commodity, has been sustained since Feb. 26, 1924. The traffic committee has filed formal complaint with the interstate commerce commission, asking refund of the amount of money collected under this charge.

Announcement of this saving to growers may be said to be one of the final chapters in the rate struggle existing during the entire post-war period, which in 1923 resulted in the substantial saving to the California orange industry of 14 cents per box, or over $3,000,000 annual, states the exchange official.

The case pending before the interstate commerce commission also asks cancellation of a similar terminal charge in New England territory, upon which the action of the

GREELEY NEW PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATED CHAMBERS; PICK HALE FOR VICE PRESIDENT

J. P. Greeley, of Balboa, was elected president of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce, and H. H. Hale, of Placentia, vice president, succeeding Greeley, at the annual election held last evening at St. Ann's Inn. Greeley succeeds W. J. Carmichael, of Fullerton. George Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, was re-elected secretary and treasurer for the fifth year.

The meeting opened with the reading of the retiring president's message. President Carmichael traced progress of the Associated Chambers in the past year and declared that the board of county supervisors, through its co-operation, had made the very fine record of constructive work possible.

Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, chairman of the advertising and publicity committee, exhibited two large books filled with clippings from eastern newspapers concerning Orange county, which publicity resulted from the entertainment of the delegates to the National Editorial association, when they passed through Orange county last summer.

Resume Scenic Tours
On April 10 the county will entertain 60 more girl information clerks on the "Orange county scenic tour through Nature's Profile Wonderland," Dr. Slabaugh said. On account of the flood conditions immediately after the start of the scenic tours two months ago, the schedule was temporarily abandoned, until repairs could be made to the state highway, but now that the highway is to be opened, the tours, by motor bus, will be started again, Dr. Slabaugh said.

H. A. Lake, of Garden Grove, chairman of the harbor committee, paid a high compliment to the people of Newport Beach for stepping in and providing the money necessary for the construction of

COLLEGE NAME QUESTION AGAIN BEFORE 'DONS'

A victory was won by the students yesterday when the name of the Santa Ana junior college was changed when the associated student body, at assembly yesterday, authorized James Smith, student president, to appoint a committee for the purpose of presenting a list of names from which to make a choice.

Donald Purvis, first to take the floor came out directly for naming the college "Valencia."

"Valencia" met with little popularity, however.

At the opening of the assembly Smith explained the situation in regard to the proposal for changing the name. He said that the question had been held over for a week in order that the students might deliberate before taking action. He gave figures concerning junior colleges of the United States. Of the 127 co-educational colleges in the country, similar to the Santa Ana junior college, 56 have dropped the "junior" and 82 do not have the name of the city in which they are located.

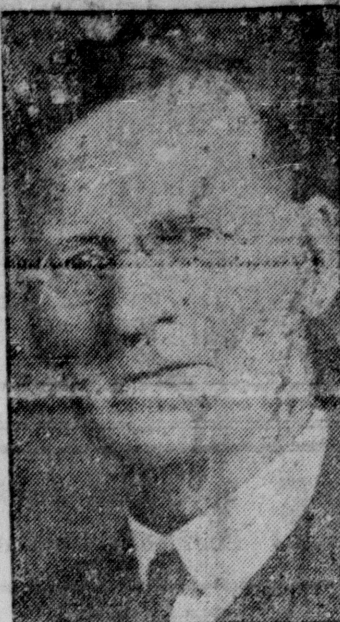

Many of the students were agreed that the "junior" should be dropped, but not all were willing to eliminate "Santa Ana."

Ray Griset said that it was a narrow viewpoint to insist upon retaining the "Santa Ana" for advertising purposes. Lyle Cook opposed him, contending that "Santa Ana" gave a definite location to the junior college, fixing it geographically for the public.

J. R. Hunt, speaking for the Orange County fair, said this year's exposition would excel in every respect the fair of last year and that prospects were most rosy for a record breaking attendance.

W. A. Dyer, who introduced himself as "young of Orange" said

Billy
Evans
Says

ORLANDO, Fla., March 29.—The Cincinnati Reds boast enough good pitching to make the club a strong pennant contender.

Manager Jack Hendricks is perfectly satisfied with his twirling staff and he should be. He is the only major league manager I have met this spring who isn't worried over his pitching.

In figuring the chances of the National league clubs there is no denying the Reds. Whether the club has the other necessary stuff to back up the pitching remains to be seen.

It strikes me that most of Manager Hendricks' worry will be centered around his infield problems. The Reds have a good infield, but hardly a great one. There are several others in the National league that stand out more strongly.

At this writing, Hugh Critz, the flashing little second sacker, had failed to report. He has already missed several weeks of spring preparation that may retard his work when he comes to terms, if he finally does.

Critz wants $20,000. I am told that Critz wants $20,000 and a three-year contract. That is considerable money. The officials of the Cincinnati club say they have made their final offer and that it isn't twenty grand.

Cincinnati will certainly miss Critz if he fails to report. Incidentally, Hughie will miss the $20,000 just as much.

With the keystone member of the infield missing, the Reds have been unable to place their regulars in the lineup for spring work and naturally will suffer from a certain lack of co-ordination that is a part of every good infield.

George Kelly, obtained from the New York Giants in the trade for Boucher, is one of the most versatile as well as valuable players in the National league. However, his presence strengthens a position in the lineup, first base, that was very well taken care of last season by Wally Pipp. No club in either major league is better fortified at the initial sack than the Reds.

Ford Starts At Short
Howe Ford will start at short and Charley Dresen at third, with Babe Pinelli and Clarke Pittenger in reserve. As I have said before, the Reds have a good infield but I would hardly class it as a great one. If trouble later develops it will probably be in the inner defense.

The outfield will be well taken care of by Walker, Zitzmann, Bessler and Christensen. Elhan Allen, a former collegian, looks like a great prospect. He is a big, husky fellow who takes a healthy cut at the ball.

The catching will be properly handled by "Bubbles" Hargrave and Val Picinich, clever receivers and dangerous hitters.

However, after giving the club the up and down carefully for several days, it is the pitching staff, to my way of thinking, that offers most to the Cincinnati fans in the way of pennant hope.

Even if Luque doesn't report, Pete Donahue, Carl Mays and Red Lucas are a trio of most capable right handers, while Eppa Rixey and Jackie May will more than look after the southpaw end of the staff. Two others who may prove of great help are Arthur Nehf and Ray Kolp.

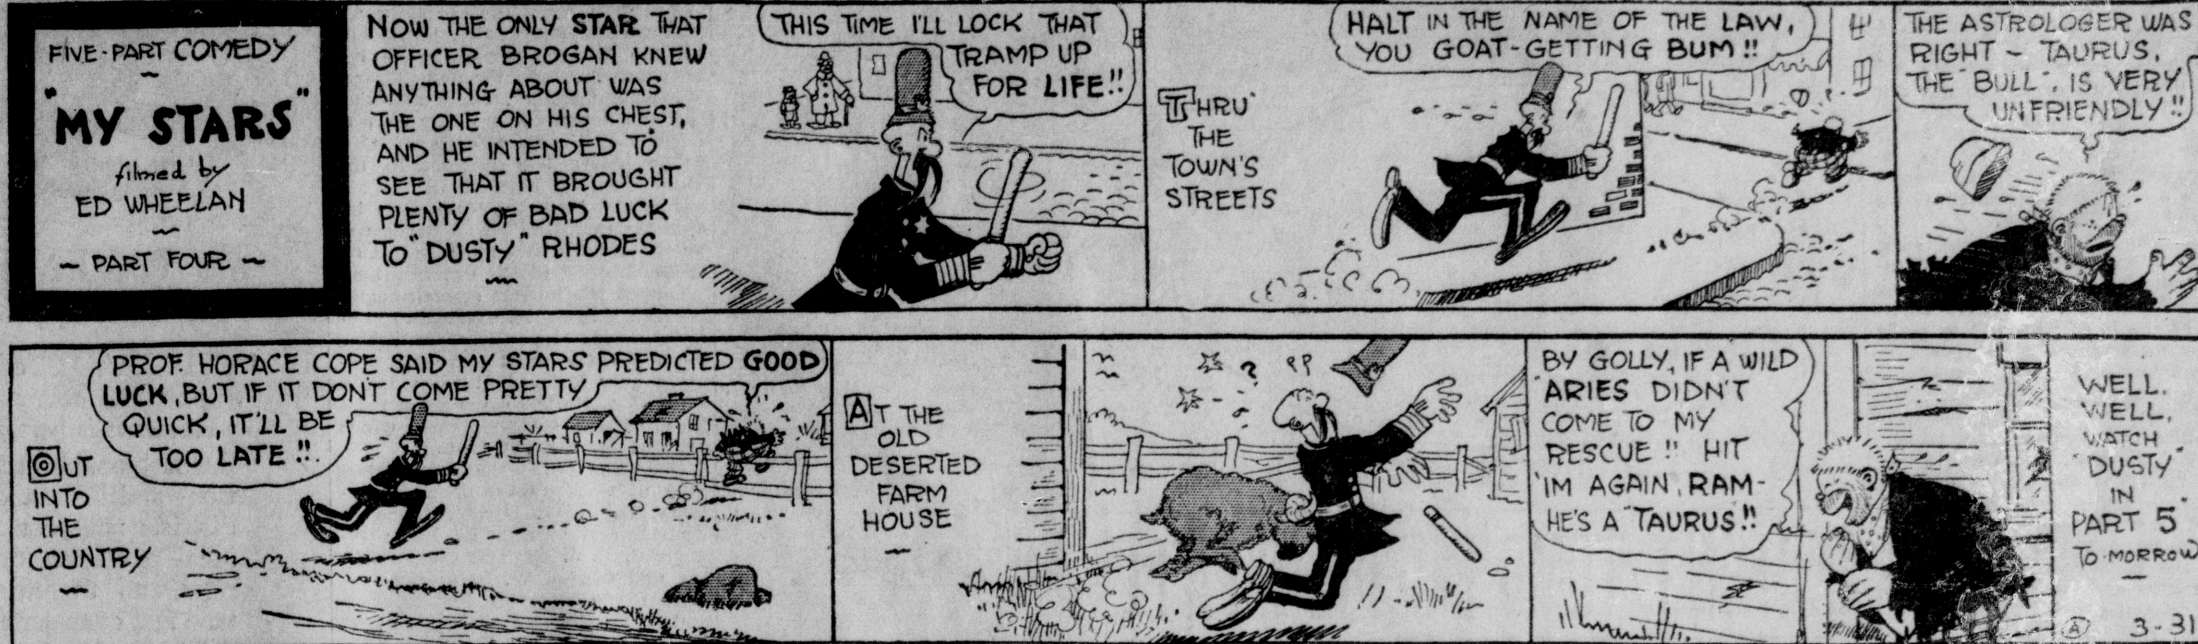

Official figures compiled in relation to the new betting tax show that a total of $1,500,000,000 was wagered on horse races in Great Britain last year.

George Toporcer, utility infielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, enjoys two unique distinctions as a big leaguer.

Toporcer has impaired vision and plays the infield wearing heavy glasses to right the trouble. There have been a number of pitchers who have worked with glasses, among them Lee Meadows and Carmen Hill, but Toporcer is the only infielder in his big league experience to do so.

New Toporcer is not a slugger. Hitting a home run is more or less a novelty with him. Therefore it is unusual that a near-home run caused him to figure in a most peculiar happening at Philadelphia. There was a runner on first base at the time and one out when Toporcer hit a fly ball to right field. Some doubt existed as to whether the ball would clear the fence. Toporcer was one of those present who was positive he had registered a home run.

The runner on first was of the opposite turn of mind, he went half way to second, then turned his head to watch the flight of the ball.

Toporcer rounded first base at full speed, and believing the other runner had continued on his way, passed him on his way to second. When Toporcer passed the runner, he automatically retired himself. Just about the time he did so the ball cleared the fence. The runner originally on first then started for the plate only to find the batsman ahead of him on the bases.

The runner scored on the hit, but since the base last touched by Toporcer when he passed the runner on his way to second was first base, he received credit for only a single on a ball that was hit over the fence.

Pittsfield, which finished last in the Eastern league race last year, will take to the field this season with new club officials, a new manager and a team made up almost wholly of new players.

COLLEGE MEET PRELIMINARIES
ARE POSTPONED

Because of weather conditions, preliminary events for the Southern California junior college track meet, which were to have been held yesterday at Riverside, have been postponed until Saturday.

In the dual track meet held between the two colleges, Riverside was victorious but other colleges in the conference will cut in on the second and third places that enabled Riverside to score heavily.

Coach Harris said that he expected to win first places in the quarter mile, half mile, mile, pole vault, javelin and possibly in the shot put. First place in the mile was won by George Russell of Koks.

Top places in the 440 are conceded to the Dons who boast such representatives as Lon McIntire, Mark Martin, Donald Squires and Russell Koks.

The rest of the Santa Ana points will be won principally in the field events. Aubrey ("Tiny") Reinhardt is certain to place in both the shot and discus and stands a good chance of winning the former. Ralph Rozelle, pole vaulter, is expected to win a first in his event. Spencer Stewart, from the showing he has made with the Grecian spear, should win the javelin throw on his record of more than 155 feet.

Paris Edgar is entered in both the 880 and the mile and has yet to meet his superior in the half mile. Over the longer route, the two mile, Ray Griset is expected to battle it out for first place with McGinnis, of Pasadena.

DETROIT WILL BE DARK HORSE
IN A. L. RACE

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK, March 31.—For several years, especially during the late periods of the Cobb regime, the Detroit Tigers were ridden harder perhaps than any club in the major leagues. It may have been responsible for the failure to do better than they have done.

Conditions became such, it is no secret, that several players practically demanded to be traded to other clubs where they felt they could get along better and play better than they could for Cobb.

There is no doubt that Cobb was a great player but he will admit himself that he was not even a good manager and in the hands of another leader the club may get more of its potential strength.

Possibilities Respected
The possibilities of the club under George Moriarty who has everything that seems successful for a successful manager, are so respected by baseball men that the team is regarded as a real dark horse in the pennant race.

The infield weakness at second base has been fatal to any chances the club had for a pennant and with the acquisition of Morrie McManus from the St. Louis Browns, the weakness may be corrected.

McManus is a better second baseman than his game in St. Louis showed. He was dissatisfied with the Browns and was not on the best of terms with the management or owners of the club.

There is certainly nothing lacking in the outfield. Detroit clubs always run to power in the outfield and in Heinie Manush, 1926 batting champion; Harry Hellman and Bob Fothergill, the team has three of the first five batters in the league.

It isn't the most finished fielding combination in the league but base hits cover a multitude of fielding sins.

Ty Will Not Be Missed
Cobb probably will not be missed as much as it might be figured at first glance. He slowed up so much last season that he benched himself and played little late in the season. The spirits of the club should not suffer by his departure.

The team hasn't any pitching strength to waste but there aren't many clubs in the league that have pitchers to spare. The Detroit pitching staff is one of the best in the league.

Ed and Leavitt Daley, Santa Ana brothers, will leave Monday for Dubuque, Ia., to join Bill Speas' Dubuque baseball club, a member of the Mississippi Valley league.

Ed Daley signed the contract offered him today by George Lackaye, local automobile salesman, who acts as scout for Speas in this vicinity. Leavitt Daley has no contract but Speas has assured him of a thorough tryout.

The brothers will motor to Iowa, being under orders to report at training camp April 16.

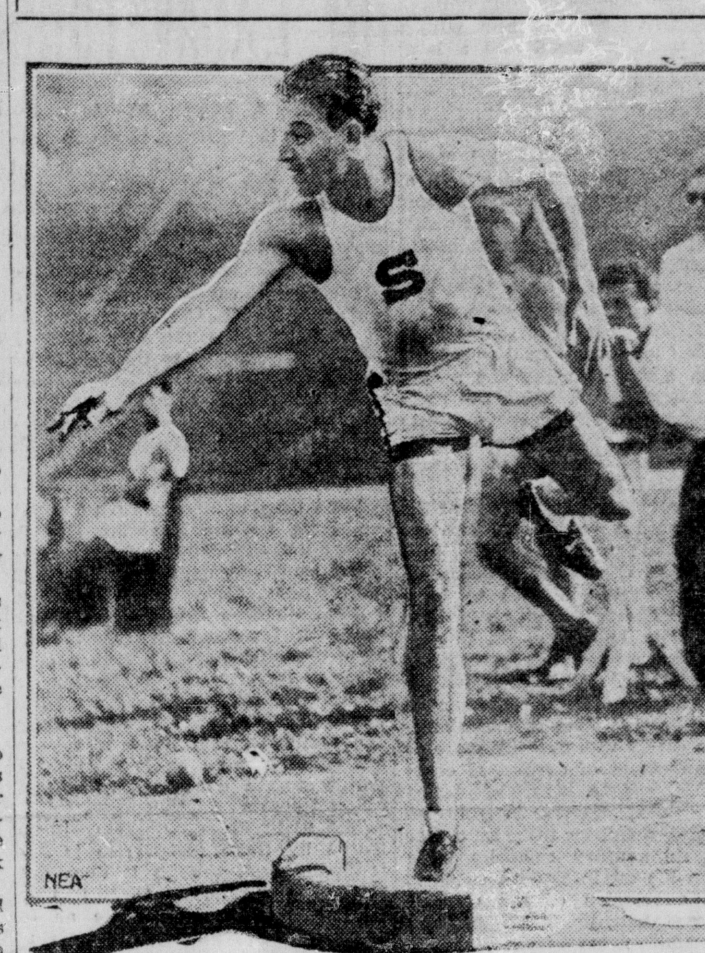

Both players are well known here, Ed being a former Santa Ana high school team captain. He is an outfielder while Leavitt is an infielder. Both throw right handed but hit from the left side of the plate.

The Daleys will play their last game here this season with the Republic Supply company at Huntington Beach Sunday.

$25,000 Contract

NEW YORK, March 31.—Eddie Roush, outfielder and holdout, will be given a compromise offer of $25,000 by the Giants on a one year contract.

THORN IN SIDE OF TROJANS

Clifford ("Biff") Hoffman, husky Stanford weight thrower, probably will worry the U. S. C. track squad more than any other single Cardinal athlete when the Reds and the Trojans battle Saturday in the meet that determines the dual meet championship of the Pacific coast. Hoffman, fullback on the Stanford football team, is good for 49 feet in the shot and 145 feet in the discus. He registers from Petaluma, a few miles from Santa Rosa, home of Ernie Nevers, another great Stanford athlete.

600 SEE GIRLS
OF GYM WORK WITH DUBUQUE

Before a thronged hall, the demonstration of girls' physical education training at Santa Ana high school was held in Andrews gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Approximately 600 spectators attended the program of formal gymnastics and games.

All available space is to be utilized for the boys' exhibition to-night beginning at 7 o'clock, according to Walter Scott, supervisor of physical education in Santa Ana schools.

An impressive sight was furnished at the opening of the girls' demonstration by the mass formation in which nearly 400 girls took part. The girls marched in, packing the gymnasium floor, and then the floor was cleared and the separate performances began.

The program of events included formal gymnastics under the direction of Miss Alverda West; demonstration of tennis strokes under Miss Diana Anderson's coaching; a volleyball game under the supervision of Miss Florence Treadway, folk dancing, and additional gymnastics and relays.

Junior and senior girls' basketball teams engaged in a five minute game before the spectators were directed to the athletic field to watch an exhibition hockey game.

Nine Aggregations to Vie For Pennant; Schedule Calls for Eight Games

The annual Orange County Second Team league, boasting a membership of nine baseball clubs of more or less ability, were to begin eight-week schedule this afternoon, weather permitting.

Three Santa Ana aggregations—the high school reserves, the Frances E. Willard junior high school and Julia C. Latrop junior high school—are in the association.

Coach Bill Foote's Polyites were to meet Garden Grove at Garden Grove. Coach L. W. Archer's Willardites were to play hosts to Fullerton. Coach Scott's Latrop squad was to face Huntington Beach here.

Other teams in the race besides those mentioned are Anaheim, Brea and Orange.

Coach Foote announced that he would start Wendell Vance, nephew of "Daisy" Vance, on the ridge against Garden Grove. The rest of the lineup was to be Don Smith, catcher; Wayne Vance, first base; John Secrest, second base; Bruce Vegeley, third base; Harold Furtch, short stop; Ellis Crane, left field; Martin Volkoff, center field, and Eric Reineau, right field.

March 31

Santa Ana at Garden Grove; Fullerton at Willard; Huntington Beach at Latrop; Anaheim at Brea; Orange—bye.

April 7

Santa Ana at Latrop; Orange at Fullerton; Willard at Huntington Beach; Garden Grove at Anaheim; Brea—bye.

April 21

Fullerton at Santa Ana; Orange at Brea; Garden Grove at Huntington Beach; Latrop at Anaheim; Willard—bye.

May 5

Fullerton at Latrop; Orange at Garden Grove; Huntington Beach at Anaheim; Willard at Brea; Santa Ana—bye.

May 12

Brea at Santa Ana; Anaheim at Fullerton; Orange at Huntington Beach; Garden Grove at Willard; Latrop—bye.

May 19

Willard at Santa Ana; Fullerton at Brea; Latrop at Garden Grove; Orange at Anaheim; Huntington Beach—bye.

May 26

Santa Ana at Huntington Beach; Orange at Latrop; Anaheim at Willard; Brea at Garden Grove; Fullerton—bye.

June 2

Orange at Santa Ana; Fullerton at Garden Grove; Huntington Beach at Brea; Latrop at Willard; Anaheim—bye.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping. When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is hot, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, sold by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

JOKE PROGRAM IS STAGED BY KIWANIS CLUB

The Smiths held away at the meeting yesterday of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club and put over a joke program that was featured with snap and clean fun.

Co-operation of the Smiths was evidenced in many ways, for Dr. H. MacVicker Smith, physician, and George S. Smith, undertaker, sat side by side as committeemen and directed the program, with Dr. Smith doing the talking. And Smith Brothers were represented in another way, a make of well known cough drops being deposited at the plate of each Kiwanian.

The joke program started when O. A. Haley vociferously expostulated his protest against being hounded to death to attend meetings of the local club and to make up by attendance at another club when he missed a meeting of his own organization. The Rev. Chas. F. Seltzer declared Haley a poor Kiwanian and regretted that he had assumed the position he had taken with reference to making up attendance. Haley subsided and declared he would continue his membership when Kiwanians from all over the room yelled that they didn't give a — if he did withdraw from the body.

B. M. Wellington is chairman of the by-laws committee appointed to produce a new set of by-laws and to offer such amendments as may be deemed necessary. Following allegations that Wellington had been too long in accomplishing nothing, O. H. Barr presented him with a binder made of wood and a large number of black sheets of paper enclosed, the blank paper representing progress the attorney had made in work assigned to him.

Dr. F. E. Coulter chided Verne Whitson for his asserted slogan of "lumber from contented trees" and handed the lumberman a present in the form of a small milk bottle, commenting on the "milk from contented cows" slogan of a local lactal dispensing organization.

W. J. Kelley came in for a little censoring on the quality of his roofing, Haley pointing the accusing finger and presenting the roofing contractor with a canvass bag in which to catch rain water dropping through his asserted leak-proof materials.

A. J. Crookshank, president of the First National bank, was the recipient of a pair of old shoes, presented by C. E. Walker to replace a pair Crookshank is said to have taken off his feet and given to a local charitable institution.

Elmer Steffensen presented Robert Speed and Dr. Smith each with a box of candy for their efficiency in their respective lines of endeavor—and the candy was nothing more or less than pieces of cardboard coated with chocolate.

The Rev. Mr. Seltzer is conceded by his club members to be an orator and a compelling speaker. Remarks were made on his qualities as a speaker, but at conclusion of the complimentary statements, C. W. Rowland tendered him a certificate of membership in the Toastmasters club.

The program was carried out in the spirit of the April Fool season and went over big. Bobby Wolf and Irvin Doyle, of the West Coast theater, provided the special musical program. Wolf performing on his violin and Doyle playing the accompaniment.

Girl Balked In Nurse's Course Poses as Male

BAKERSFIELD, March 31.—Blocked in her desire to become a nurse because she wore skirts and did not have a high school education, Gladys Lindley, 21, put on a pair of trousers and successfully posed as a male orderly at the Kern general hospital for three months, Dr. Joseph Smith, hospital superintendent disclosed.

Dr. Smith revealed the girl's success in announcing the dismissal of the "orderly."

Gladys applied for a nurse's position at the hospital three months ago. She wasn't accepted. A few days later she returned in boy's clothing and was readily accepted as an orderly. Her ruse was ended when a former school teacher of hers recognized her.

Tenant Ejected From Wagon Box

PORTLAND, Ore., March 31.—Diogenes would be out of luck were he alive and in Portland today. Not that he would be unable to find an honest man, as that is a debatable subject, but living in tubs and other such unorthodox abodes is not permitted.

Matt Walorist had one thing in common with the ancient philosopher, as he was found living in an overturned wagon box in Portland. Some one had dumped the box over a bridge and it landed in a gulch. Walorist remained there three weeks before police discovered it.

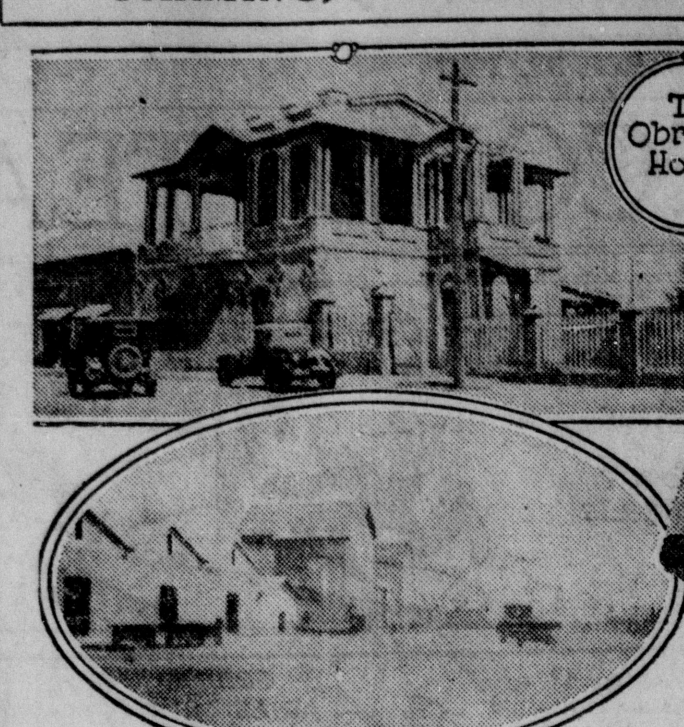

"Get out of my sunshine," said Matt, as the blue-eyed darkened his door. But, never having heard of the conversation between Diogenes and Alexander, the police accorded him no respect, and today he is looking for a new home.

Portland Claims
'Home City' Title

PORTLAND, March 31.—Claiming it is proof of the right of Portland's title as the "home city," H. U. Welch, county assessor, has just completed a survey showing that there are 66,997 homes within the corporate limits.

Indicating the popularity of the motor car is the fact that there are 37,632 private garages within the city. Old Dobbin remains a factor, however, as there are 2000 in Portland.

WHAT'S BEST JOB FOR FORMER PRESIDENT? FARMING, IN OPINION OF ALVARO OBREGON

The Obregon Barns

Obregon the farmer

Limelight Again Beckons Mexican Hero, But He Prefers Fields

NAINARI, Sonora, Mex., March 31.—Fourteen years ago a Mexican farmer named Alvaro Obregon abruptly deserted his country house to become a soldier.

Through his struggles, troubled Mexico was restored to order and given the most stable, progressive government it had enjoyed in many years.

His work done, this same Alvaro Obregon went back to his farm, forgetting the cares of government, like Cincinnati of old.

Now there is widespread talk that Obregon will be recalled to public service, perhaps again to serve as president, perhaps to defend the present regime against a new revolution. But Obregon hopes he can remain in retirement, he told me as we talked at his farm home here.

Executive on Huge Estate
Obregon, just turned 48, displays on his huge country estate the same executive qualities that made him so distinguished a president.

A year ago, his tract of land at Nainari was a barren waste of sagebrush and cactus. Obregon took charge of it with zest, and now has a 20,000-acre establishment, peopled by a community of nearly 20,000 people—a little kingdom in which he virtually reigns supreme.

The annual return from his agricultural venture is estimated at $100,000.

It is almost impossible to induce Obregon to discuss the present political situation in his country. But he will talk freely of his own aims and ambitions; of his efforts to bring better working and living conditions to the downtrodden Mexican peons, of his dream of reclaiming both the people and lands of his country.

Proud of School
He points proudly to a long building to the left of his house. In this building, by day, the children of his employes go to school, in the evenings, the workmen use it as a study and reading room.

Beside it is a small hospital with a competent doctor and a number of nurses.

The town itself, three miles away, also shows his influence. It is laid out and built in modern style.

Huge up-to-date warehouses, equipped with modern elevators and transfer carriers, hold Obregon's crops until they are ready for shipment.

Turning a 20,000-acre stretch of semi-desert into a productive farm in eight months requires lots of work; so, as might be imagined, Obregon keeps long hours.

He is up every morning by 4 o'clock, and off on a tour of inspection. As he passes through the fields, lowly peons look up and smile, tossing a cheerful "Don Alvaro" to him in answer to his cordial nod.

House Is Picturesque
Obregon's house is old-fashioned, viewed from the outside, but highly modern within. It reflects his character; bespeaks his culture and education.

From the portico of this turreted, castle-like home Obregon can see his green and yellow fields stretching, in great, billowy waves, to the far horizon. Through them winds the Mayo river, with irrigation canals extending from it like slender filaments.

On the second floor is Obregon's sanctum—a sort of combination of den and library and office. Here, when he is not checking his accounts or studying some new agricultural review, he sits and browses through his two favorite authors—Marcus Aurelius and La Rochefoucauld.

Obregon says that it is his ambition to spend the rest of his days on his farm, working for and with the army of employes and forsaking politics for the company of his wife and four children. He is repeatedly urged by friends to seek the presidency again, but he refuses to discuss this.

It is better to be farmer, he thinks.

ANCIENT TOMB IS UNCOVERED BY EXCAVATORS EMPIRE STATE GOES FURTHER IN CRIME DRIVE

LONDON, March 31.—A correspondent in Ur, Iraq, sends to the Times an account of the recent work of the joint archaeological expedition sent out by the British museum and the University of Pennsylvania.

The excavators have uncovered a cemetery whose date lies between 3500 and 3200 B. C. In other words it is older than the first dynasty of Ur and belongs to that nebulous epoch assigned by ancient Sumerian chroniclers to a dynasty of kings of Erech who reigned for periods that make Methuselah look young.

Names of Kings
That Ur was already then a royal—though not an imperial—city is shown by the names of kings engraved on their cylinder seals; that the country, divided up as it must have been into a number of city states, had already achieved a high level of culture and enjoyed a certain uniformity of civilization is made clear by the character of the objects found in the graves and by the analogies they present to the contents of more or less contemporary tombs excavated at Kish, 150 miles away in the north.

The state of civilization illustrated by these discoveries is astonishing and, though it does not settle the questions, throws new light upon the old dispute as to whether the civilization of the Euphrates or the Nile valley can claim priority in time. This cemetery belongs to the period when Mesopotamia was establishing the first dynasty of Egypt, and already here writing is no less advanced than on the Nile and the technique of the arts and crafts is definitely superior.

Graves Are Simple
The tradition of Egypt in about 3400 B. C. is marked by the appearance of new art forms and methods that seem to have been introduced from abroad or at least modified by foreign influences; the contemporary civilization of Mesopotamia is no less evidently the outcome of steady development in the country itself, and since change was demonstrably slow the origins of that civilization must go back to an immemorial antiquity.

The graves themselves are simple enough. In most cases the body, fully dressed, was wrapped in matting and laid on a mat spread over the bottom of the tomb shaft; personal belongings, jewelry, etc., were placed with the body, and between the hands or against the mouth was set a cup of clay or copper which presumably contained drink, just as a cup of water is often set over a modern Arab grave so that the dead man may wet his tongue before replying to the cross-examination of the recording angel. Against the roll of matting were placed other food or metal vessels containing food and drink; more matting might be spread over the top of these, and then the earth was flung back into the pit.

Fires at Head of Dead
In some cases a fire was lit against the head of the dead man and body and offerings were partly consumed before the grave was filled in; but the custom, clearly a survival of cremation, was already dying out, and in the later graves there is little or no trace of fire. In the higher levels a square wicker-work basket or coffin is sometimes substituted for the simple matting of an earlier age, and wooden coffins have been found, though such seem to mark a distinction in wealth rather than in date.

It is tempting to assume that here is evidence of the mixture of races, Sumerian and Semitic, which throughout the historical period characterizes the Euphrates valley. In many of the graves the head is found to be resting on a pile of clean sand; the modern Arab of Southern Mesopotamia has no such practice, but in northern Syria whenever a man is buried a basketful of clean sand, fetched, it is possible, from the river, is spread beneath his head, and the parallel may well be one argument more for an early cultural connection between Sumeria and the north.

Tiny Trout Will Be Released Soon

VISALIA, March 31.—Approximately half a million trout eggs are being hatched at the Kaweah hatchery of the state fish and game commission here.

The trout will be planted in streams of Tulare county in about three months. They will be about two inches long at that time.

VALENCIA SHOW THIS YEAR TO EXCEL OTHERS

Unprecedented enthusiasm is reported among committees working on the seventh annual California Valencia Orange show, to be held at Anaheim, May 19 to 29.

Although plans for the show are just getting under way, practically all the feature display space has been contracted for and George W. Reid, manager, announces that the tent housing space may have to be enlarged. Reid declares that never before has interest in the show been so high so far in advance and he takes this as an indication that this year's event will be the biggest and most successful in the history of the organization.

One of the busiest committeemen is H. E. W. Barnes, chairman of entertainment, who is formulating plans for the most elaborate program ever fostered at the Valencia exhibition. He has some novel ideas in mind for entertainment, which are due for a great ovation.

Following are the committees busy at work on the show: Publicity, H. E. W. Barnes, Lotus H. London and George W. Reid; industrial, R. J. Grange, Oscar Reber and George W. Reid; automobile, Clyde Croner, Silas McGraw and A. W. Franz; concessions, F. W. Youngbluth and Dr. J. H. Hillary; feature, A. E. Hargrow, Geo. W. Reid and H. E. W. Barnes; decoration, William Schureman; electrician, Vard Hannum; orange show tickets, E. E. Smith; ground, H. N. White; passes, William Stark and Dr. J. G. Hillary, and gate, William Backs.

The history of the use of the classified columns is a story of successful effort.

PROCEDURE FOR SCHOOL CHANGE IS EXPLAINED

That the Newport harbor district may secure its own high school and form its own high school district without securing any change in the state law was the declaration made yesterday in Newport Beach by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, in an address before the Newport Beach Exchange club.

The method employed in securing the high school and the high school district would be a roundabout one, according to Mitchell. The school superintendent declared that he had investigated the state law and found that a grammar school district could withdraw from a high school district and be annexed to another high school district, providing that the grammar school district is six miles from the high school to which the pupils are sent.

Mitchell pointed out that Newport Beach is more than six miles from Santa Ana and that the district should experience little difficulty in withdrawing from Santa Ana and joining either Huntington Beach or Tustin Union high school districts, after which the district could form its own school district and build its own high school under the present state law, which allows the division of union high school districts.

Rigorous Requirements

Requirements in the step are rigorous, however, he pointed out. A petition, signed by two-thirds of the heads of families in the grammar school district, must be presented to the high school district from which it is desired to withdraw and the consent of the trustees of the high school district to be entered must be secured.

Mitchell urged those present to continue the attempt to secure a change in the state law which would allow the Newport district to withdraw from Santa Ana's city high school district. He expressed but small hope that the measure would meet with success in the state legislature. Mitchell pointed out that the school matter covered a great deal of territory and that any proposed change to allow the division of a city school district would result in opposition from the political representatives from all big communities.

That part of the Costa Mesa district might also withdraw from the Santa Ana high school district was the opinion expressed by Mitchell. He declared that the limits of the Costa Mesa or the Harper-Fairview school extended almost to Greenville and that part of the district is within six miles of the Santa Ana high school. He declared, however, that it would be possible to divide the district, annexing the portion within six miles of the Santa Ana school to the Greenville district and allowing the remaining portion to withdraw.

Mitchell also urged citizens of the Newport harbor district to get out and vote at the school election, April 11. He pointed out that many candidates were running for the board in Santa Ana and that, while citizens of Santa Ana probably would not vote for the Newport Beach candidate, the harbor district could place its man on the Santa Ana school board if it got out a solid vote for its candidate.

Presents Valuation Figures

Figures showing the assessed valuation of the harbor district, the rate of taxation, the cost of a new school building and the cost of maintenance were presented by Mitchell. He declared that the assessed valuation of Newport Beach is $3,895,686; Costa Mesa, $1,083,890, and Paulerino, $708,335. The tax rate in Newport Beach reaches a total of 81 cents per $100 he showed. His figures also revealed that Newport Beach this year paid $52,086.07 in school taxes for high school, junior high school and junior college.

Mitchell also submitted figures which showed that if a high school district were formed in Newport Beach it would be possible to operate it. The school superintendent estimated that a high school in Newport Beach would have 150 students. He declared that the average money drawn by a district amounted to $120 per student, which would make a total of $18,000 received from the county and state for the high school. This

Pre-School Child Examinations Are Under Way Again

For the third successive year, the bureau of child hygiene of the state board of health is conducting, during the spring months, an educational campaign to encourage parents to have their children physically fit for school in the fall, according to word received by J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools.

Arrangements are being made in all counties to enlist the co-operation of local physicians to the end that children about to enter school for the first time may receive thorough physical examinations in time to permit any corrections that may be necessary before next fall.

Commenting upon this undertaking Superintendent Cranston said that the physical fitness of children at the time they enter school is recognized as being peculiarly important for normal school progress and for ultimate success in life. He called attention, however, to the fact that the proposed examinations are in no way compulsory and no children may be barred from school privileges because the parents are unwilling to have such examination made.

FATHER'S ESTATE IS WILLED TO CHILDREN

A $16,000 estate left by the late Charles Hoff, of Huntington Beach, who died March 20, will be divided between his four children, according to terms of a will just filed for probate in superior court.

Earl Hoff, a son, of Los Angeles, and C. A. Overholzer, a son-in-law, of La Verne, are the petitioners. The estate includes 20 acres of land near Huntington Beach, values at $10,000, and $6000 in cash and personal property.

The 20 acres, under the will, are divided into four parts of five acres each, each of the four heirs receiving five acres. Cattle and implements on the ranch were willed to a daughter, Elizabeth Fox, of Huntington Beach, in addition to her five-acre share of the ranch. This, said the will, was for her care of her father in his declining years. The other three heirs are Mareta Overholzer, of La Verne; Ada Wardwell, of Huntington Beach, and Earl Hoff, of Los Angeles.

Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, Santa Ana, represent the petitioners.

sum added to the $52,086.07 collected in taxes would make a total of $70,086.07 to operate the school, Mitchell pointed out.

The school superintendent estimated the cost of a site and high school building at $300,000. His figures showed that the district could pay $15,000 per year interest, $12,000 per year on the principal sum and still have $43,000 to run the school. He stated that the Garden Grove high school operated this year on a budget of $41,500.

Withdrawal Not Opposed

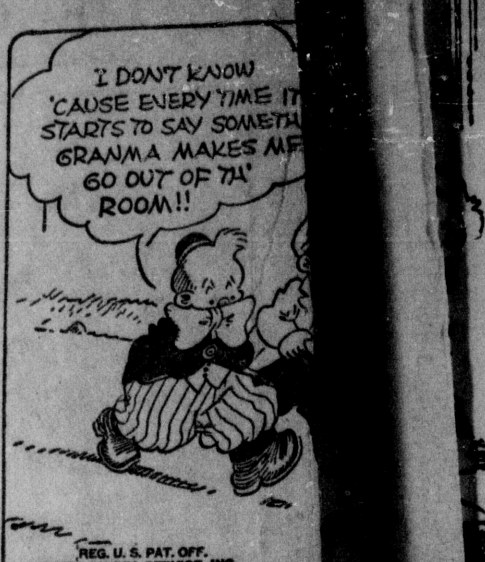

Mitchell declared that the people of Santa Ana are not opposed to the withdrawal of the Newport harbor district from the Santa Ana high school district. He declared that he had taken an opposite to the matter when first approached because he wished to find any possible flaws in the matter from a legal standpoint.

Mitchell declared that Santa Ana voters did not like to transport the Newport Beach children many miles to school any better than the Newport Beach people like to send their children such a distance to school. He also pointed out that regardless of what the citizens of the districts would like to do, they were governed by the state school law pertaining to the matter.

WILL FIGHT IT OUT AGAIN

The newspapers of Los Angeles and the state senators from Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, at this time resemble the widows of Ashur, of whom we are told, upon scriptural authority, that they "were loud in their wail."

Almost with tears, the newspapers of Los Angeles claim that that city and the county of the same name are to be denied the representation which they, by reason of population, should command. All this because the state legislature is enacting a reapportionment of senatorial and assembly districts in accordance with the mandate of the people at the November election.

The three big cities of the state will not have control of the state senate if and when the new basis of representation prevails.

The word "if" appears in this connection for the reason that the Los Angeles Times has announced that the legislature enactment will be subjected to a referendum, which, in effect, will put before the people again the question of whether the state shall use the federal plan of reapportionment. It was this plan that was adopted by a decisive vote in November, while the Los Angeles plan, which proposed representation in both houses of the legislature strictly on a population basis, was decisively turned down.

The word "if" also is used because when the reapportionment measure, carrying out the constitutional amendment voted in November, passed the state senate yesterday, the state senators from San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles signed a statement reading as follows:

"We, the undersigned members of the state senate of California, hereby declare that our vote in favor of senate bill No. 490 was for the sole purpose of performing our sworn duty to uphold the constitution as amended at the last election. We desire to have it clearly understood that our vote shall not, under any circumstances, be construed as an expression of our approval of the principle of representation embodied in this measure, nor as a ratification of the act of the people in adopting the constitutional amendment known as proposition No. 28 on the ballot at the last general election."

Some of these senators further declared their intentions of assisting the proposed referendum, which is to be fostered, and, we have no doubt, made effective, under the leadership of the Los Angeles crowd, represented by Ralph Arnold and his Republican county central committee, which stands for Los Angeles first, last and all the time.

The significance of the word "if," then, lies in the fact that it seems certain that the fight will have to be made over again, and, going before the people, it is possible, though not probable, that the voters will change their verdict.

The attitude of those opposing the new reapportionment plan is perfectly plain. They say that the voters did not realize what they were doing when they voted in favor of the federal plan last November. Our opinion is that they knew what they were doing then, that they have not changed their minds in the slightest and that when the matter comes to a vote they will declare more decisively than they did in November in favor of the federal plan. Blocking tactics, such as the Los Angeles leaders have outlined, do not create sympathy and do not bring votes. The ordinary voter does not like a poor loser, and the Los Angeles crowd, in addition to being selfish, is just that.

PILLOW FIGHTS TABOO

The home economics department in one of the colleges has forbidden bed-time pillow fights.

"Tyranny!" say the students, and some of their parents echo it.

Pillow-fighting, indeed, has long been considered one of the inalienable rights of childhood and youth. And there is a lot of fun in it.

Still, what people go to bed for is to sleep, isn't it? And anything that gets them all excited at bed time keeps them from going to sleep. Then they get up next morning feeling tired and dopy.

Young people need all the sleep they can get, and the best way to get it is to quiet down when they turn in for the night. And besides, it's hard on the pillows.

THE BRAINIEST BUSINESSES

"Which are the brainiest and most successful of America's huge enterprises?" asks B. C. Forbes, prominent business commentator. He suggests this list of ten businesses:

General Motors, General Electric, J. P. Morgan & Company, Steel Corporation, Standard Oil, American Telephone and Telegraph, Metropolitan Life, National City Bank, Eastman Kodak, Woolworth's.

"What is missing from this picture?" as the puzzle editors say. Many will suggest additions or changes. Perhaps the omission of Ford Motor Company is the most notable thing about Mr. Forbes' list. It might make a good subject for debate—whether Ford's great and profitable enterprise should be in the first 10, and if not, why?

CLUBS INSTEAD OF BALLOTS

An American political science professor admits that voting in elections is decreasing. He believes, however, that much of the influence the voter has surrendered by ignoring elections he will regain by connection with organizations or associations that take an interest in public affairs. Such groups bring pressure to bear on public officials, do a good deal of research work to dig up administrative, political and social facts, and keep up a fairly steady educational campaign among members.

The professor doesn't say whether he approves of this method of democracy. He merely gives it as his observation of the current trend.

Women's clubs and men's clubs, both local and national in their scope, certainly are showing an increasing interest in public affairs. They appoint special committees to investigate the working of laws, the qualifications of candidates for public office, the behavior of incumbents in public offices, and many other phases of community and national life. They make recommendations and pass resolutions and take various sorts of action which sometimes seem to have beneficial results. Their most obvious and outstanding failure, however, is in the effort to get their membership into the voting booths on any election day. So far they have worked for that in vain.

On the educational side, such organization is excellent and ought to be encouraged. But the safety and propriety of their efforts to influence public officials is open to question. Without the backing of a large and intelligent vote, their work offers too much opportunity for lobbying and for the exercise of wrong influence as well as good. The situation is also menacing for the reason that propagandists announce fictitious organizations under apt names and broadcast the conclusions of these specially created organizations as of high value.

It's nearly always easier for a sick person to get well by taking a nice trip somewhere without calling it a vacation.

Two for Hall of Fame

Fresno Republican

It is interesting to note that the Senate committee has chosen as the two Californians to be honored in the hall of fame, Statuary Hall, at Washington, two clergymen.

Both Thomas Starr King and Junipero Serra were clergymen. But neither is remembered specially for his theology.

Both were men committed to the service of God.

King was a modernist, one versed in the ways of cities, whose efforts made of California a theme to people, not a land of gold but a land of social opportunity. Thomas Starr King did more than any other man in California, by far, to save this state from making a chaos of itself in the Civil War. He killed, by his eloquence, the proposal to set up a California Republic, separate from both the North and the South.

He made the Yosemite valley famous by his eloquence. He made San Francisco noted by his union of higher intelligence with the daily occupations of men, and this not by courting among the stars or into the secrets of human or divine origins, but by a fervent understanding of how men and nature can be useful to each other.

Serra was a Catholic. King was a Unitarian. Each in his own way a builder of this California. It is well that these two men, so outwardly different in their associations, in their type of mind and in their ideals, should have helped so abundantly to make our state and our part in our nation.

A Continent-Plan

Oakland Tribune

The city-planning movement has grown until counties and states talk of plans. As Stanley Bruce, Prime Minister of Australia, has announced his intention of encouraging a continent-plan for his country, there is nothing left to follow but the hemisphere and world plans.

Australia is to have a committee of eight, four members of the "Migration and Development Commission" and four to be chosen in England or elsewhere and to include men acquainted with the problems of industrial growth. They will be expected to develop a plan for continental system of development for Australia, including communications, opening of new territory, development of water supply through artesian wells and methods of financing and encouraging a large movement of population from the settled coast districts into the interior. In other words they are to fill the blank spaces on the Australian map with roads, rail lines, farm districts and cities.

It has been suggested that Australia has learned a lesson from American history where development leaped westward without time or thought in the planning. Then the natural resources were considered as inexhaustible and each post on the frontier was a unit by itself. Australia is fortunate in being able to survey its undeveloped territory in the light of history. It can make a plan and, doubtless, will discover a way to incite men to carry it out.

Health Topics

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor of Journal of American Medical Association

EXERCISE IN ITSELF ISN'T ROAD TO HEALTH

Hetherington of the University of California suggested four hours of muscular activity at the age of 5 years, five hours from 7 to 9, six hours from 9 to 11, five hours from 11 to 13, four hours from 13 to 16, three hours from 16 to 18, and two hours daily from 18 to 20, as the proper amount.

Williams states that one hour should be given daily to activities involving the use of the large muscles of the body after 20 years of age and that anything less than that will result in physical deterioration. Man should not live for his muscles alone, nor should he conceive that big muscles are necessarily associated with good health.

Everyone should have sufficient strength of muscle to carry on the ordinary activities of life and to permit some exceptional use in time of emergency. The value of muscular activity is, of course, to stimulate the body's general chemistry and physiology, to aid the circulation and encourage elimination.

Exercise has the value for the young of stimulating body growth. Among muscular activities suitable to persons of all ages are swimming, walking, golf, horseback riding, fishing and gardening.

Competitive sports are available and useful up to 30 years of age, but serious over activity after that age may do more damage than good. The use of calisthenics, daily dozens and similar exercise is valuable within limitation, but it must not be considered as the one road to general health.

The chief advantages are the habitual use of such exercises, but there are no magic formulas for exercise that will guarantee freedom from disease or the presence of what is commonly called "pep." The latter seems to be as much a part of mental disposition or temperament as of physical state.

Hurrah! Hurrah! The War's Over

Land of Beginnings

Pasadena Star-News

"The ever new intellectual land of beginning again." This is the characterization given California by Dr. Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, in his charter-day address at the University of California.

It is not your gold, your climate, nor your trade advantage that famed California, but the vision of its people," said Dr. Work. Very fine compliments. It is true that California's most precious assets are its ideals and the visions of its people. Truly it is an "ever new intellectual land of beginning again." It is a land of constructive idealism. It is a land where the failure of today becomes the stepping-stone to the success of tomorrow.

California is a land where sound, decent principles and practices, in public and in private life, are the purest gold. It is a land where the atmosphere of refinement and culture is more to be prized even than the wondrously delightful climate prevailing in this commonwealth.

There are here the environments and incentives to noble endeavor and lofty thinking. Here science achieves some of its most notable triumphs. Here come and strive some of the world's most illustrious scientists. Truly an "ever new intellectual land of beginning again."

Compliments such as that from Dr. Work are worth a vast deal to California. They go forth as disinterested, and as coming from a man of high attainments in public and private life. They are convincing, to those who do not know California intimately. Those who know this state, need no convincing.

Worth While Verse

AT THE CROSSROADS

With a steady swing and an open brow
We have tramped the ways together,
But we're clasping hands at the crossroads now
In the Fiend's own night for weather;
And whether we bleed or whether we smile
In the leagues that lie before us,
The ways of life are many a mile
And the dark fate is o'er us.
Here's luck!

And a cheer for the dark before us!

You to the left and I to the right,
For the ways of men must sever,
And it well may be for a day and a night
And it well may be forever!
But whether we live or whether we die
Here's two frank hearts and the open sky,
Be a fair or ill wind blowing!
Here's luck!

In the teeth of all winds blowing.

South Carolina's State

Fresno Republican

The legislature of South Carolina has adjourned for the year without doing anything to nullify its "blue laws," the term in its case being applied with some eling to the Sunday closing statute.

Whatever may be the merit of proposed changes, the can be no question that the legislature is quite within its right in refusing to act, and thereby giving new validity to the "blue laws."

Amid our great confusion of genus and variety law in the United States, we are apt to forget the fact that a fundamental law may be added to local law or federal law, it may be restricted by the delegation of rights to localities or to the local government. The primary fact that our rule is a rule of state.

The state can do anything that it wants or can refuse to do anything that it does not care to do, unless it has, by its own expressed or implied, accepted a restriction or delegated a power.

To be sure, some one restrictions or delegations of power are very much in the "blue" class. Some of them are tied from other powers specifically delegated. Some are implied by very fact of joining the Union, or in 1788 or later. However they be, the delegation is there, the "residuum" of law power here. WILL FIGHT IT OUT AGAIN

The newspapers of Los Angeles and the state senators claim that that city and the county of the same name at this time resemble the widows of Ashur, of whom we are told, upon scriptural authority, that they "were loud in their wail."

Almost with tears, the newspapers of Los Angeles claim that that city and the county of the same name are to be denied the representation which they, by reason of population, should command. All this because the state legislature is enacting a reapportionment of senatorial and assembly districts in accordance with the mandate of the people at the November election.

The three big cities of the state will not have control of the state senate if and when the new basis of representation prevails.

The word "if" appears in this connection for the reason that the Los Angeles Times has announced that the legislative enactment will be subjected to a referendum, which, in effect, will put before the people again the question of whether the state shall use the federal plan of reapportionment. It was this plan that was adopted by a decisive vote in November, while the Los Angeles plan, which proposed representation in both houses of the legislature strictly on a population basis, was decisively turned down.

The word "if" also is used because when the reapportionment measure, carrying out the constitutional amendment voted in November, passed the state senate yesterday, the state senators from San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles signed a statement reading as follows:

"We, the undersigned members of the state senate of California, hereby declare that our vote in favor of senate bill No. 490 was for the sole purpose of performing our sworn duty to uphold the constitution as amended at the last election. We desire to have it clearly understood that our vote shall not, under any circumstances, be construed as an expression of our approval of the principle of representation embodied in this measure, nor as a ratification of the act of the people in adopting the constitutional amendment known as proposition No. 28 on the ballot at the last general election."

Some of these senators further declared their intentions of assisting the proposed referendum, which is to be fostered, and, we have no doubt, made effective, under the leadership of the Los Angeles crowd, represented by Ralph Arnold and his Republican county central committee, which stands for Los Angeles first, last and all the time.

The significance of the word "if," then, lies in the fact that it seems certain that the fight will have to be made over again, and, going before the people, it is possible, though not probable, that the voters will change their verdict.

The attitude of those opposing the new reapportionment plan is perfectly plain. They say that the voters did not realize what they were doing when they voted in favor of the federal plan last November. Our opinion is that they knew what they were doing then, that they have not changed their minds in the slightest and that when the matter comes to a vote they will declare more decisively than they did in November in favor of the federal plan. Blocking tactics, such as the Los Angeles leaders have outlined, do not create sympathy and do not bring votes. The ordinary voter does not like a poor loser, and the Los Angeles crowd, in addition to being selfish, is just that.

PILLOW FIGHTS TABOO

The home economics department in one of the colleges has forbidden bed-time pillow fights. "Tyranny!" say the students, and some of their parents echo it.

Pillow-fighting, indeed, has long been considered one of the inalienable rights of childhood and youth. And there is a lot of fun in it.

Still, what people go to bed for is to sleep, isn't it? And anything that gets them all excited at bed time keeps them from going to sleep. Then they get up next morning feeling tired and dopy.

Young people need all the sleep they can get, and the best way to get it is to quiet down when they turn in for the night. And besides, it's hard on the pillows.

THE BRAINIEST BUSINESSES

"Which are the brainiest and most successful of America's huge enterprises?" asks B. C. Forbes, prominent business commentator. He suggests this list of ten businesses:

General Motors, General Electric, J. P. Morgan & Company, Steel Corporation, Standard Oil, American Telephone and Telegraph, Metropolitan Life, National City Bank, Eastman Kodak, Woolworth's.

"What is missing from this picture?" as the puzzle editors say. Many will suggest additions or changes. Perhaps the omission of Ford Motor Company is the most notable thing about Mr. Forbes' list. It might make a good subject for debate—whether Ford's great and profitable enterprise should be in the first 10, and if not, why?

CLUBS INSTEAD OF BALLOTS

An American political science professor admits that voting in elections is decreasing. He believes, however, that much of the influence the voter has surrendered by ignoring elections he will regain by connection with organizations or associations that take an interest in public affairs. Such groups bring pressure to bear on public officials, do a good deal of research work to dig up administrative, political and social facts, and keep up a fairly steady educational campaign among members.

The professor doesn't say whether he approves of this method of democracy. He merely gives it as his observation of the current trend.

Women's clubs and men's clubs, both local and national in their scope, certainly are showing an increasing interest in public affairs. They appoint special committees to investigate the working of laws, the qualifications of candidates for public office, the behavior of incumbents in public offices, and many other phases of community and national life. They make recommendations and pass resolutions and take various sorts of action which sometimes seem to have beneficial results. Their most obvious and outstanding failure, however, is in the effort to get their membership into the voting booths on any election day. So far they have worked for that in vain.

On the educational side, such organization is excellent and ought to be encouraged. But the safety and propriety of their efforts to influence public officials is open to question. Without the backing of a large and intelligent vote, their work offers too much opportunity for lobbying and for the exercise of wrong influence as well as good. The situation is also menacing for the reason that propagandists announce fictitious organizations under apt names and broadcast the conclusions of these specially created organizations as of high value.

It's nearly always easier for a sick person to get well by taking a nice trip somewhere without calling it a vacation.

Two for Hall of Fame

Fresno Republican

It is interesting to note that the Senate committee has chosen as the two Californians to be honored in the hall of fame, Statuary Hall, at Washington, two clergymen.

Both Thomas Starr King and Junipero Serra were clergymen. But neither is remembered especially for his theology.

Both were men committed to the service of God.

Both performed this service in the works of serving men.

Serra was a zealous pioneer, abandoning a life of comparative ease for one of arduous exploration among meager lives that needed vision he could give them.

King was a modernist, one versed in the ways of cities, whose efforts made of California a theme to people, not a land of gold but a land of social opportunity.

Thomas Starr King did more than any other man in California, by far, to save this state from making a chaos of itself in the Civil War. He killed, by his eloquence, the proposal to set up a California Republic, separate from both the North and the South.

He made the Yosemite valley famous by his eloquence. He made San Francisco noted by his union of higher intelligence with the daily occupations of men, and this not by courting among the stars or into the secrets of human or divine origins, but by a fervent understanding of how men and nature can be useful to each other.

Serra was a Catholic. King was a Unitarian.

Each in his own way a builder of this California. It is well that these two men, so outwardly different in their associations, in their type of mind and in their ideals, should have helped so abundantly to make our state and our part in our nation.

A Continent-Plan

Oakland Tribune

The city-planning movement has grown until counties and states talk of plans. As Stanley Bruce, Prime Minister of Australia, has announced his intention of encouraging a continent-plan for his country, there is nothing left to follow but the hemisphere and world plans.

Australia is to have a committee of eight, four members of the "Migration and Development Commission" and four to be chosen in England or elsewhere and to include men acquainted with the problems of industrial growth. They will be expected to develop a plan for continental system of development for Australia, including communications, opening of new territory, development of water supply through artesian wells and methods of financing and encouraging a large movement of population from the settled coast districts into the interior. In other words they are to fill the blank spaces on the Australian map with roads, rail lines, farm districts and cities.

It has been suggested that Australia has learned a lesson from American history where development leaped westward without time or thought in the planning. Then the natural resources were considered as inexhaustible and each post on the frontier was a unit by itself. Australia is fortunate in being able to survey its undeveloped territory in the light of history. It can make a plan and, doubtless, will discover a way to incite men to carry it out.

Health Topics

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor of Journal of American Medical Association

EXERCISE IN ITSELF ISN'T ROAD TO HEALTH
Various authorities on physical education have suggested proper amounts of muscular activity for persons at various ages.

Hetherington of the University of California suggested four hours of muscular activity at the age of 5 years, five hours from 7 to 9, six hours from 9 to 11, five hours from 11 to 13, four hours from 13 to 16, three hours from 16 to 18, and two hours daily from 18 to 20, as the proper amount.

Williams states that one hour should be given daily to activities involving the use of the large muscles of the body after 20 years of age and that anything less than that will result in physical deterioration. Man should not live for his muscles alone, nor should he conceive that big muscles are necessarily associated with good health.

Everyone should have sufficient strength of muscle to carry on the ordinary activities of life and to permit some exceptional use in time of emergency. The value of muscular activity is, of course, to stimulate the body's general chemistry and physiology, to aid the circulation and encourage elimination.

Exercise has the value for the young of stimulating body growth. Among muscular activities suitable to persons of all ages are swimming, walking, golf, horseback riding, fishing and gardening.

Competitive sports are available and useful up to 30 years of age, but serious over activity after that age may do more damage than good. The use of calisthenics, daily dozens and similar exercise is valuable within limitation, but it must not be considered as the one road to general health.

The chief advantages are the habitual use of such exercise, but there are no magic formulas for exercise that will guarantee freedom from disease or the presence of what is commonly called "pop." The latter seems to be as much a part of mental disposition or temperament as of physical state.

Hurrah! Hurrah! The War's Over

Land of Beginnings

Pasadena Star-News

"The ever new intellectual land of beginning again." This is the characterization given California by Dr. Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, in his charter-day address at the University of California.

It is not your gold, your climate, nor your trade advantage that famed California, but the vision of its people," said Dr. Work. Very fine compliments. It is true that California's most precious assets are its ideals and the visions of its people. Truly it is an "ever new intellectual land of beginning again." It is a land of constructive idealism. It is a land where the failure of today becomes the stepping-stone to the success of tomorrow.

California is a land where sound, decent principles and practices, in public and in private life, are the purest gold. It is a land where the atmosphere of refinement and culture is more to be prized even than the wondrously delightful climate prevailing in this commonwealth.

There are here the environments and incentives to noble endeavor and lofty thinking. Here science achieves some of its most notable triumphs. Here come and strive some of the world's most illustrious scientists. Truly an "ever new intellectual land of beginning again."

Compliments such as that from Dr. Work are worth a vast deal to California. They go forth as disinterested, and as coming from a man of high attainments in public and private life. They are convincing, to those who do not know California intimately. Those who know this state, need no convincing.

Worth While Verse

AT THE CROSSROADS

With a steady swing and an open brow
We have tramped the ways together,
But we're clasping hands at the crossroads now
In the Fiend's own night for weather;
And whether we bleed or whether we smile
In the leagues that lie before us,
The ways of life are many a mile
And the dark fate is o'er us.
Here's luck!
And a cheer for the dark before us!

You to the left and I to the right,
For the ways of men must sever,
And it well may be for a day and a night
And it well may be forever!
But whether we live or whether we die
(For the end is past our knowing),
Here's two frank hearts and the open sky,
Be a fair or ill wind blowing!
Here's luck!
In the teeth of all winds blowing.

—Richard Hovey.
